WHAT'S ON THE COVER?

In celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Hot Brown, our 2026 cover shoot took place at Louisville's historic Brown Hotel, where the Hot Brown was first created by Chef Fred K. Schmidt in 1926. A century later, you can still enjoy a Hot Brown in the original dining room where it was first served, prepared exactly as described in the original recipe: thick slices of roasted turkey breast, layered on top of Texas toast, with Roma tomatoes and Mornay sauce broiled to golden, bubbly perfection and topped with crisp bacon. Trying the Hot Brown is a bucket-list item that many visitors mark off their list when visiting Louisville, and you can find it on menus across the city, both the classic recipe and creative twists, from Hot Brown pizzas to vegetarian Hot Browns.

To set the scene for the iconic Louisville dish's 100th birthday photo, we selected classic baking and serving pieces from Stoneware & Co., which was founded in Louisville in 1815 and is one of America's oldest stoneware producers. If you visit Stoneware & Co. in Louisville's Paristown neighborhood, you'll find the blue Elodie Collection and the Hot Brown Baking Dish featured on our cover. You can even take a tour of their factory, which was Louisville's first.

Scattered around the Hot Brown, which was prepared for us by the Brown Hotel's kitchen staff, are decadent Bourbon balls and Louisville Playing Cards designed by local artist Bri Bowers celebrating famous Louisvillians like Jack Harlow, Muhammad Ali, Colonel Sanders, and the Belle of Louisville steamboat. The Hot Brown is paired with traditional Louisville drinks, including a Bourbon neat in a rocks glass from the Louisville Visitor Center, a mint julep in a commemorative Derby cup, and a bottle of Ale-8-One. Also invented in 1926, Kentucky's original soft drink, whose name is a play on "a late one," is a perfect complement to the Hot Brown which was also first served in the wee hours.

The cover scene was captured through the lens of Louisville photographer Mickie Winters, of Winters Photography Co., who has been photographing the people, places, events, and icons of Louisville and beyond since 2001 (mickiewinters.com). We hoped to capture the raucous, late-night revelry that first inspired the creation of the Hot Brown, when Chef Schmidt found a creative way to feed famished partiers who'd been dancing in the ballroom all night and perhaps entice you to indulge in the world-famous Hot Brown when you visit Louisville.

Explore Bourbon City

Starting with Evan Williams in 1783, Louisville has been home to many distillers. In the early 1900s, there were more than 50 Bourbon-related businesses along Main Street earning its nickname "Whiskey Row." In 2013, Evan Williams Bourbon Experience ushered in a renaissance, which has now seen the opening of nearly two dozen distilleries and tasting rooms in the urban core, each with unique visitor experiences.

★frazier

Start your adventure at the Kentucky Bourbon Trail® Welcome Center located in the Frazier History Museum where a concierge service helps visitors plan their Bourbon excursions. 829 W. Main St.

ANGEL'S ENVY

Angel's Envy is a labor of love from multiple generations of the Henderson family. Located across the street from Louisville Slugger Field, get an up-close look at the entire operation and enjoy a tasting in the Finishing Room, a cocktail at the private bar, and the opportunity to bottle your own port barrel-finished Bourbon. 500 E. Main St.

BROUGH BROTHERS

Kentucky's first African-American owned distillery is located in southwestern Louisville. Founded by the Yarbrough brothers, Victor, Bryson, and Chris, Brough Brothers opened in 2020 and offers thirty-minute tours of its microdistillery. 1460 Dixie Hwy.

13 URBAN DISTILLERIES

BUZZARD'S ROOST

Known for the flavor created during secondary maturation, Buzzard's Roost micro-distillery offers guided whiskey tastings and flights as well as cocktail and Bourbon education classes. The Buzzard's Roost Bar & Lounge is open to the public and serves cocktails and flights. 624 W. Main St.

COPPER & KINGS

Explore the deep history of America's original spirit—long before bourbon claimed the spotlight. At Copper & Kings, you'll tour some of the largest custom pot stills in the country and step into the spaces where time and craft shape our brandy. Your visit ends on our rooftop bar, with a sweeping view of Louisville and a pour that brings the story full circle. 1121 E. Washington St.

EVAN WILLIAMS BOURBON EXPERIENCE

The Evan Williams Bourbon Experience was the first distillery to open on Whiskey Row post-Prohibition, signaling a new era in Bourbon City. Here you'll find an immersive experience that celebrates the legacy of Kentucky's first distiller, Evan Williams, and the intertwined history of Bourbon and the Ohio River. The ON3 Bar is an urban chic loft open to the public. 528 W. Main St.

Distillery Bar open to the public

KENTUCKY PEERLESS DISTILLING CO.

The first Peerless whiskey went into a barrel in 1889 and now the Taylor family has revitalized the brand at its distillery right off Main Street. At this intimate facility you can experience the entire whiskey-making process as the grains are milled, cooked, fermented, double-distilled, and barreled as Bourbon and Rye. 120 N. 10th St.

MICHTER'S FORT NELSON

Michter's saved and renovated the historically and architecturally significant Fort Nelson building on Louisville's Museum Row and opened its doors in February 2019. In addition to tours, tastings, and a gift shop, the second floor of the building features a high-end cocktail bar. 801 W. Main St.

NULU WHISKEY CO.

At this Prohibition-themed distillery located on Baxter Avenue, see how bootleggers made moonshine in the '20s as you view a collection of historical memorabilia from the era. Spend some time after your tour in the full-service Prohibition Craft Spirits Bar. 436 Baxter Ave.

OLD FORESTER

Returning to the same building it once called home, Old Forester is the culmination of a 150-year legacy. On the tour, follow the Bourbon-making process from fermentation and distillation, to the in-house cooperage where barrels are handcrafted and fired, then filled and aged in an on-site rickhouse before being bottled. George's Bar features historic photos and is open to the public. 119 W. Main St.

OLD LOUISVILLE WHISKEY CO.

The family-owned Old Louisville Whiskey Co. pays tribute to the Old Louisville neighborhood that inspires its Bourbons and whiskeys by aging for a minimum of seven years before bottling by hand. Experience the process first-hand on one of their tours. 4427 Poplar Level Rd.

RABBIT HOLE

Set in Louisville's NuLu neighborhood, the distillery showcases the identity, tradition, and legacy of Bourbon-making in an entirely new way. Get lost in the magic and linger in the light-filled distillery with amazing views of the skyline, river, and bridges. Guests can also indulge at Overlook, a curated rooftop tasting bar. 711 E. Jefferson St.

STITZEL-WELLER

Located in southwestern Louisville, the historic Stitzel-Weller Distillery first opened on Derby Day 1935. Now home to Blade and Bow, tours include a look at a craft still, the warehouse where rickhousing was invented, and a time capsule look at a 1935 barrel cooperage. Visit the Garden & Gun Club, one of only two in the U.S. 3860 Fitzgerald Rd.

UNCLE BOOJIE'S

In Uncle Boogie's Bourbon tasting warehouse, sample Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whiskey pulled straight from the cask, learn the stories behind a 200-year-old family recipe, and enjoy a guided tasting that highlights the family's long-standing whiskey tradition. During the Bonded Warehouse Tour, you can choose a favorite barrel, bottle, and label your own keepsake. 700 Vine St.

STOP BY THE HERITAGE CENTER

A PLACE TO HAVE A HERITAGE EXPERIENCE

Since 2011, the Kentucky Center for African American Heritage has been a member of the Kentucky Tourism, Arts, and Heritage Cabinet. As a quasi-state agency, the Heritage Center is dedicated to a statewide mission to preserve, promote, and advance the culture and heritage of African Americans in Kentucky and the legacy shared throughout the African Diaspora.

For over a decade, the Heritage Center's operation has been located in the heart of Louisville's historic Russell neighborhood on the former Louisville Street Railway Complex known as the "Trolley Barn," built in 1876. The imposing 68,000 sq. ft. campus provides multiple venues where education, enrichment, and entertainment happens.

Permanent exhibitions in the Brown-Forman Great Hall and other galleries across the Heritage Center campus include "A Salute to Muhammad Ali: A Life of Inspiration," "Black Freedom Struggle in Kentucky," "Brigadier General Charles Young: Soldier, Educator, Diplomat & Civil Rights Advocate," "The Legends of Great African American Jockeys," "Two Centuries of Black Louisville and "A Self-Guided Tour of Louisville's Civil Rights History." In addition to rotating and permanent exhibitions throughout the year, the Heritage Center produces, curates, and hosts educational, enrichment, and entertainment programs with performances of all types for children and adults alike.

Ali's Louisville

Honoring The Greatest

While loved and revered throughout the world, Ali always considered Louisville to be his home. It was in Louisville that Ali honed his ability as a boxer, and it was here he returned after winning Gold in the 1960 Rome Olympics. Ali came home often after capturing the title of Heavyweight Champion of the World, and following his retirement from boxing, he was involved with the vision and direction of the Muhammad Ali Center. And it is here, in Louisville, that “The Greatest” has his final resting place.

2026 will mark the tenth anniversary of Ali's passing on June 3, 2016, a solemn moment when the world lost a global icon. Louisville honored its native son with a week-long tribute that welcomed visitors from around the world, culminating in thousands lining the city streets to honor Ali along his funeral procession. The outpouring of love during that memorial week reflected the deep connection between Ali and the city that shaped his character, values, and unshakable belief in standing up for what is right.

Fans from around the globe continue to visit Louisville to pay their respects and celebrate the legacy of Ali. The city is filled with landmarks that are the backdrops of the events and experiences that molded him into a man who was both loved and respected as a legendary sports figure, as well as a man of true principle. Today, visitors can explore these places to gain a deeper appreciation for how Louisville influenced his journey and helped give rise to his global humanitarian impact.

The “Footsteps of Greatness” map that follows suggests a self-guided tour of these local Ali touch points.

“Tell ‘em I’m from Louisville. I don’t want Chicago or New York or Texas to take the credit for all of what I’ve done. I want you to know ... that we in Louisville are the greatest of all time.” — Muhammad Ali (1942-2016)

ALI FESTIVAL

May 29 – June 7, 2026

Marking the 10th Anniversary

Ali Festival honors Muhammad Ali and the spirit of unity Louisville showed following his passing on June 3, 2016. The Ali Center leads this annual multi-day, community-wide celebration featuring educational programs, inspiring speakers, youth activities, film screenings, and events at locations significant to the life and legacy of “The Greatest.” Each year, the festival highlights Ali's six core principles and invites visitors to experience the city he proudly called home. In 2026, fans will return to mark the 10th anniversary of Ali's passing and celebrate the enduring global impact of Louisville's hometown hero. alifest.org

Take the self-guided Footsteps of Greatness tour of Louisville to see the iconic spots that helped shape Ali's life.

1. MUHAMMAD ALI CHILDHOOD HOME

Ali lived in the West Louisville house during his childhood in the 1940s through the early 1960s. It was renovated in 2016, returning the home's exterior to its original pink color. A bronze marker is located in front of the pink house noting its historical significance (no inside admittance). 3302 Grand Ave.

2. WEST END SCHOOL

Formerly the Virginia Avenue Colored School, Ali attended primary school at what is now the West End School between 1948 and 1954. 3628 Virginia Ave.

3. CHICKASAW PARK

As a youth, Ali trained and played at this community park. 1200 Southwestern Pkwy.

4. COLUMBIA GYM

Ali first learned to box at the Columbia Gym, located in the basement of the Columbia Auditorium, which is now part of Spalding University. He was invited by Joe Martin, a police officer who also worked as a boxing coach. Ali met Martin as a young teen when he reported his red bicycle stolen. He never recovered the bike, but his fate was sealed with that encounter. The gym, where Ali first practiced his cutting jabs and fast footwork, is still used by Spalding athletes today. A red bike hangs above the entrance of the building in honor of that fateful day. Across the street is the library where Ali worked his first job. 824 S. Fourth St.

ALI ARTWORK AROUND TOWN

From Shepard Fairey's 7-story mural on the Chestnut Street YMCA to the mural pictured above on 812 S. Preston Street, painted by local artist, Kacy Jackson, there are more than a dozen public artworks celebrating the spirit of The Champ and the community he loved. To discover the creative tributes that adorn the city of Ali, visit gotolouisville.com/ali

5. CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

Ali graduated from the West Louisville high school in 1960 the same year that he won Gold at the Rome Olympics. The school, which is still in operation today, held a celebration in Ali's honor upon his return. 1130 W. Chestnut St.

6. SMOKETOWN UNITY MONUMENT

Created by local sculptor Ed Hamilton and the late artist Zephra May Miller, the 12-foot-tall stainless steel sculpture features two boxing gloves overlapping to form a heart in the middle and has stood at the corner of Hancock and Lampton Streets since 1991.

Hancock & Lampton Streets

7. FREEDOM HALL

Located at the Kentucky Exposition Center, Freedom Hall was home to Ali's first professional fight as well as his Islamic funeral prayer service. 937 Phillips Ln.

8. MUHAMMAD ALI BOULEVARD

In 1978, Louisville's Walnut Street was renamed to honor "The Greatest."

9. ALI'S HOMETOWN HERO BANNER

Third St. & River Rd.

10. SECOND STREET BRIDGE

Legend has it that this is where Ali stood and is thought to have thrown his Olympic Gold Medal into the Ohio River after he and a friend were denied service at a local restaurant.

11. MUHAMMAD ALI CENTER

A vision of the Ali family, it opened in 2005 and celebrates the life and legacy of the world-class boxer and global humanitarian. The six-story multicultural center and award-winning museum features exhibits spotlighting the six core values Ali strived to live by throughout his life: Confidence, Conviction, Dedication, Respect, Giving, and Spirituality. Highlights include a mock boxing ring, Ali boxing memorabilia, a theater that screens a short film showcasing Ali's life, and a full-sized boxing ring where a large projector displays "The Greatest," his signature fight. 144 N. Sixth St.

12. CAVE HILL CEMETERY

The scenic 296-acre Victorian-era National Cemetery and arboretum is the final resting place of Louisville's native son. Visitors regularly leave tributes at the 7x3-foot African granite ledger with benches, which are collected and given to the Ali family. 701 Baxter Ave.

243 Years of History You Can Still Experience

Louisville is a city steeped in rich history, and its early foundations continue to shape its tourism today. Founded in 1778, Louisville quickly became a key transportation and trade hub due to its strategic location along the Ohio River. Today, tourists flock to landmarks like the Louisville Slugger Museum, which celebrates the city's deep connection to baseball, and Churchill Downs, home of the famous Kentucky Derby. Additionally, Louisville's role in the Bourbon industry, which dates back to the 18th century, draws visitors from around the globe, eager to explore the Kentucky Bourbon Trail®. The city's historic hotels, such as the Brown Hotel and the Seelbach Hilton, have welcomed famous guests for more than a century and continue to offer a glimpse into the city's storied past.

EVAN WILLIAMS

In 1783, Evan Williams established Kentucky's first commercial distillery on the banks of the Ohio River. Today, the current distillery sits just across the street from that original location on "Whiskey Row," where the Evan Williams Bourbon Experience offers tours, guided tastings, history exhibits, and a retail space.

528 W. Main St.

STONEWARE & CO.

In 1815, Jacob Lewis established Louisville Stoneware as the first factory in Louisville. This family craft business has been handed down generation to generation and offers factory tours, paint-your-own, and a retail store. 731 Brent St.

FARMINGTON HISTORIC HOME

In 1816, John and Lucy Speed completed their Federal-style home on a 550-acre hemp plantation, where Abraham Lincoln visited in 1841. Visitors can tour the restored 14-room house, which features Jeffersonian elements like two octagonal rooms, and the 18-acre grounds, which are open daily.

3033 Bardstown Rd.

CATHEDRAL OF THE ASSUMPTION

In 1852, the Cathedral of the Assumption opened in the heart of downtown. Built in the Gothic Revival style, it features soaring pointed arches, stained-glass windows crafted in Germany, and an ornate interior. A National Historic Landmark, it is one of the oldest cathedrals in continual use in the United States. 433 S. 5th St.

AMERICAN PRINTING HOUSE FOR THE BLIND

In 1858, the General Assembly of Kentucky established the American Printing House for the Blind. It is now the world's largest nonprofit creating educational materials for the visually impaired and will open "the world's most accessible museum," The Dot Experience, on its campus in 2026. 1839 Frankfort Ave.

LOUISVILLE WATER TOWER

In 1860, Louisville Water Company began operation with its elegant 185-foot Water Tower and Pumping Station No. 1. Today, these National Historic Landmarks overlook the Ohio River as part of the WaterWorks Museum, which offers guided tours that explore the city's groundbreaking water history. 3505 River Rd.

OLD FORESTER

In 1870, George Garvin Brown, founder of Brown-Forman, bottled and marketed the first Bourbon sold exclusively in sealed bottles. Today, visitors can tour the Old Forester distillery, which is located in the same building the brand called home from 1882-1919. 119 W. Main St.

CHURCHILL DOWNS

In 1875, Colonel Meriwether Lewis Clark realized his dream to showcase the Kentucky Thoroughbred industry and opened Churchill Downs. Oliver Lewis won the first Kentucky Derby riding Aristides on May 17. Churchill Downs is open to visitors year-round via guided tours offered daily by the Kentucky Derby Museum. 700 Central Ave.

LOUISVILLE SLUGGER

In 1884, John Hillerich made his first baseball bat from white ash in his father's wood shop. The bats became known by the popular name Louisville Slugger, made to this day by Hillerich & Bradsby Co. on Main Street. You can tour the Louisville Slugger Museum & Factory and see how bats are made, hold historic bats, and view exhibits about baseball history. 800 W. Main St.

OLMSTED PARKS

In 1891, Louisville leaders commissioned Frederick Law Olmsted, the landscape architect famous for NYC's Central Park, to design Louisville's park system, one of only four in the world with tree-lined parkways connecting Olmsted parks. Today, these public parks welcome millions of visitors each year.

THE SEELBACH

In 1905, the Beaux-Arts Baroque Seelbach Hotel opened, drawing a crowd of 25,000 who marveled at the lavish imported marble, French bronzes, Irish linens, European hardwoods, and Persian rugs. Today, guests rooms include a Gatsby Suite that pays tribute to F. Scott Fitzgerald, whose novel "The Great Gatsby" includes scenes set at the hotel. Free hotel tours are led by historian Larry Johnson. 500 S. 4th St.

FREE PUBLIC LIBRARIES

In 1908, Louisville's Free Public Library system opened its doors with four Carnegie-endowed branches: Downtown, Crescent Hill, Parkland, and Western, all designed in the Beaux-Arts style of architecture. Five more Carnegie libraries followed, and today the LFPL system includes 17 locations across the city.

BELLE OF LOUISVILLE

In 1914, the Belle of Louisville was built in Pittsburgh, and in 1931, it made its way to Louisville, which became its permanent home. A National Historic Landmark, the Belle is still completely steam-powered and paddlewheel-propelled. You can take river cruises on the Belle of Louisville, including daytime sightseeing cruises, dinner cruises, or special event cruises. 401 W. River Rd.

THE BROWN HOTEL

In 1923, David Lloyd George, a former prime minister of the United Kingdom, was the first person to sign the guest register at Louisville's opulent Georgian-Revival hotel, decorated with hand-painted coffered ceilings, and rich marble accents. Today, guest rooms include the Ali Suite, which pays tribute to Louisville's native son, who called The Brown his "home away from home." 335 W. Broadway

PLEHN'S BAKERY

In 1924, Kuno Plehn, a native of Kiel, Germany, moved his bakery to St. Matthews, where it is still located and operated by the fourth generation of the family. From kuchen to German chocolate cakes, the German heritage is still evident in Plehn's popular baked goods, which draw lines out the door. 3940 Shelbyville Rd.

MIKE LINNIG'S RESTAURANT

In 1925, Mike Linnig and his wife, Carrie, began offering fresh fish sandwiches (crafted from the same recipe used today) at their roadside fresh fruit and vegetable stand. Their restaurant, now run by the third generation, is open seasonally. The first fish fry of the year is an annual spring rite for many Louisvillians. 9308 Cane Run Rd.

GUIDE TO GATSBY'S LOUISVILLE

Over a century ago, when author F. Scott Fitzgerald was stationed in Louisville during World War I at Camp Taylor, he frequently visited the downtown Seelbach Hotel to drink and dance with local girls. The significance of these experiences is evident in his most famous book, “The Great Gatsby,” which includes romantic and nostalgic scenes set in Louisville, including Tom and Daisy Buchanan’s wedding. While much of Fitzgerald’s Louisville has disappeared, pockets of the vintage 1920s glamour still remain. To experience Fitzgerald’s Louisville — Gatsby’s Louisville — all you need to know is where to look.

The Seelbach Lobby

DISCOVER THE SPLENDOR OF FITZGERALD’S ERA

TOUR THE SEELBACH HOTEL

Built in 1905, the Seelbach Hotel is Louisville’s most famous Gatsby site. Free historical tours of the hotel include iconic spots such as the Grand Ballroom, where Tom and Daisy’s wedding is set, the Oakroom, where the gangsters would play cards, and the Rathskeller, where Fitzgerald imbibed and danced. 500 S. 4th St.

STROLL THROUGH CHEROKEE TRIANGLE

Historians believe Fitzgerald modeled Daisy’s house on an elegant Southern home in the Cherokee Triangle area of the Highlands, adjacent to Frederick Law Olmsted-designed Cherokee Park. Nearby is Cherokee Golf Course, one of the oldest municipal courses in the U.S., which surely would have been the green of choice for Daisy’s best friend and golf star Jordan Baker.

HAVE DINNER AND DRINKS AT A HISTORIC RESTAURANT

Start or end your day at the Seelbach with breakfast at Gatsby’s on Fourth or its signature Seelbach Cocktail at the Old Seelbach Bar. For 1920s-inspired dining, try Bistro Le Relais, Jeff Ruby’s, or Repeal on Whiskey Row. Cocktail seekers can head to Darling’s for gin, Nouvelle for wine and champagne, or Hell or Highwater for a speakeasy vibe.

EXPLORE WHISKEY ROW

Fitzgerald certainly would have taken a stroll down “Whiskey Row” in his day, as well as soaked himself in Bourbons from one of its many distilleries. To truly sink into the Prohibition-era atmosphere, book a Speakeasy Tasting Experience at Evan Williams or book a tour at Old Forester Distillery.

VISIT CHURCHILL DOWNS

Socialite Daisy and her family would have been attendees at annual events at Churchill Downs like the Kentucky Derby, where the rich and famous came to mingle and bet on horse races. The Kentucky Derby Museum offers detailed tours of the historic racetrack and features exhibits like “150 Years of Derby Fashion” that show how Daisy and Gatsby would have dressed for the event in the 1910s and ‘20s. 700 Central Ave.

TAKE A RIDE ON THE BELLE OF LOUISVILLE

The Belle of Louisville, a 1914 steamboat and National Historic Landmark, still cruises the Ohio River with themed, historical, and family-friendly trips. Explore the engine room during your ride on this vessel that dates to Fitzgerald’s Louisville days. 401 W. River Road

TRY A CIGAR AT J. SHEPHERD CIGARS

J. Shepherd Cigars owner Jason Shepherd says that Fitzgerald would have smoked one of the most classic cigars: a Montecristo No. 2. “Cigars are referenced in a lot of his stories to invoke that sense of wealth,” Shepherd said. 1429 Bardstown Rd.

SNAP PHOTOS AT UNION STATION

Though Camp Taylor is gone, you can visit Union Station, the 1891 Romanesque landmark where Fitzgerald arrived and later set Gatsby’s departure from Louisville. Once the South’s busiest station, it saw 58 trains daily. Today it houses TARC offices but still showcases its grand clock tower and vaulted ceilings. 1000 W. Broadway

Hot Brown Century

LOUISVILLE'S LEGENDARY
LATE-NIGHT CREATION TURNS 100

During the height of the Roaring Twenties, the Brown Hotel was a hub of Jazz Age revelry. On weekend nights, the fashionable crowd, dressed in beaded gowns and tuxedos, packed the Crystal Ballroom, where they danced the Charleston as the hotel orchestra played jazz and waiters glided by with silver trays of cocktails discreetly poured despite Prohibition. In the wee hours, after the last note was struck, the famished partygoers would retreat downstairs to the restaurant.

One such night in 1926, Chef Fred K. Schmidt broke from the standard menu of ham and eggs. From the night's leftover roast turkey, slices of toast, and a pot of Mornay sauce, he layered an open-faced sandwich, placed it under the broiler until golden and bubbling, and topped it with crisp bacon.

Chef Schmidt's creation, perhaps inspired by Welsh rarebit or the croque-monsieur, was an immediate sensation, and word of "the Brown Hotel's new hot sandwich" spread throughout the city. It soon became known simply as "the Hot Brown" and quickly became an iconic Louisville dish, as much a part of the city's character and culture as Bourbon and the Kentucky Derby.

The Hot Brown has been featured in publications like "The New York Times" and "Southern Living," celebrated by chefs from Bobby Flay to Alton Brown, and included in the world's finest cookbooks.

A century after Chef Schmidt first served the legendary late-night creation, you can still savor a bite of the Jazz Age in the original dining room where it was first served or at restaurants across the city, where you'll find not only the classic Hot Brown but creative new twists highlighted during events like the annual Hot Brown Week and this year's centennial anniversary. In a city renowned for culinary excellence, Louisville chefs are sure to delight diners with their take on this classic dish.

“For a dish to survive a hundred years, still the same recipe, is mind-blowing. Whenever we hire a chef, we tell him, ‘You can do anything you want, but you can’t mess with the Hot Brown. It’s got to be the original recipe.’”

THE WORLD-FAMOUS HOT BROWN

Yield: 2 servings

INGREDIENTS

2 oz. Whole Butter
2 oz. All Purpose Flour
8 oz. Heavy Cream
8 oz. Whole Milk
½ Cup of Pecorino Romano Cheese
Plus 1 Tablespoon for Garnish
Pinch of Ground Nutmeg
Salt and Pepper
14 oz. Sliced Roasted Turkey Breast, Slice Thick
4 Slices of Texas Toast (Crust Trimmed)
4 Slices of Crispy Bacon
2 Roma Tomatoes, Sliced in Half
Parmesan Cheese
Paprika and Parsley for garnish.

PREPARATION

In a two-quart saucepan, melt butter and slowly whisk in flour until combined and forms a thick paste (roux). Continue to cook roux for two minutes over medium-low heat, stirring frequently. Whisk heavy cream and whole milk into the roux and cook over medium heat until the cream begins to simmer, about 2-3 minutes. Remove sauce from heat and slowly whisk in Pecorino Romano cheese until the Mornay sauce is smooth. Add nutmeg, salt and pepper to taste.

ASSEMBLY

For each Hot Brown, place two slices of toast with the crusts cut off in an oven safe dish – one slice is cut in half corner to corner to make two triangles and the other slice is left in a square shape - then cover with 7 ounces of turkey. Take the two halves of Roma tomato and two toast points and set them alongside the base of the turkey and toast. Next, pour one half of the Mornay sauce to completely cover the dish. Sprinkle with additional Pecorino Romano cheese. Place the entire dish under a broiler until cheese begins to brown and bubble. Remove from broiler, cross two pieces of crispy bacon on top, sprinkle with paprika and parsley, and serve immediately.

The Hot Brown 7 Ways

In 1926, the Brown Hotel's Chef Fred K. Schmidt created a rich, open-faced sandwich layered with turkey, bacon, and creamy Mornay sauce. A century later, we are still celebrating this iconic dish, dubbed "The Hot Brown," now considered Louisville's signature specialty. Local chefs are reimagining the classic with delicious new twists. # Experience Louisville's Black Heritage

Since the settlement of Louisville in 1778, the African American community has played a pivotal role in shaping the city's vibrant social, political, and cultural landscape, from Bourbon to horse racing and from culinary traditions to political activism.

Many of the initial African American residents were brought to Louisville as enslaved workers, but there was also a small, free Black population that founded the city's first African American churches and businesses. Following the Civil War, African Americans moved to Louisville in large numbers to pursue economic opportunities, paving the way for the establishment of a bustling business and entertainment district along "Old Walnut Street" (now Muhammad Ali Boulevard), spanning 6th to 13th Streets into the Russell neighborhood. At this time, the historically Black Smoketown neighborhood also began to flourish as a community where many Black residents owned their own homes and where one of the city's first African American public schools was founded in 1874.

Today, throughout the city, cultural institutions, exhibitions, public art installations, and historical markers pay tribute to this history and commemorate the contributions of Black Louisvillians. For visitors keen on exploring this heritage, we've compiled a list of some noteworthy attractions below.

ALBERTA O. JONES PARK

A trailblazer and civil rights champion born in 1930, Alberta O. Jones was one of the first Black women to pass the Kentucky Bar exam and the first woman appointed City Attorney in Jefferson County. A park in the California neighborhood near the location of her former law office pays tribute to her achievements and includes a music-inspired nature playground designed by Earthscape, walking paths, a picnic pavilion with grills, and a photo mural of Jones created by the community, Josh Bleeker, and Louisville Visual Art. 744 S. 23rd St. | parksalliancelou.org/albertajonespark

BLACK BALLPLAYERS AT THE SLUGGER MUSEUM

Celebrate the achievements of baseball greats like Jackie Robinson, Ken Griffey Jr., and Derek Jeter as you explore the Louisville Slugger Museum's "Black Ballplayers" exhibit. Discover the inspiring story of "the best Black baseball team you've never heard of"—the Louisville Unions—who rose to dominance in the early 1900s despite the barriers of racism. You'll also get an up-close look at some of the game's most legendary bats, including the one Hank Aaron swung for his historic 700th home run.

Louisville Slugger Museum & Factory, 800 W. Main St. | sluggermuseum.com

BLACK HERITAGE IN RACING AT KENTUCKY DERBY MUSEUM

The "Black Heritage in Racing" exhibit at the Kentucky Derby Museum highlights the tremendous impact of Black horsemen in Thoroughbred racing. This permanent exhibit honors the legacy of the Black jockeys who rode 15 of the first 28 Derby champions and celebrates modern contributions like the stories of Raymond Daniels and Greg Harbut, owners of 2020 Derby contender Necker Island.

CHARLES H. PARRISH JR. FREEDOM PARK

Charles H. Parrish, Jr. Freedom Park, located on the University of Louisville's Belknap campus, tells the story of African Americans in Louisville and the surrounding Commonwealth. With public art, historical markers, and green space, the park celebrates the contributions of some of the giants of Louisville's civil rights struggle, including Dr. Charles Parrish, Jr., the university's first Black professor.

KENTUCKY BLACK TRAILBLAZERS EXPERIENCE

The Kentucky Black Trailblazers is a 19-stop Augmented Reality (AR) experience that spans six counties, celebrating the influential Black figures who shaped the history of Kentucky and beyond. At each stop, visitors can immerse themselves in the stories of these trailblazers by scanning a QR code at a historically significant location. In Louisville, the experience highlights four iconic figures: Muhammad Ali at the Muhammad Ali Center, Kentucky Derby-winning jockey Oliver Lewis at the Kentucky Derby Museum, and Civil Rights leaders Mary Cunningham Smith and Lyman T. Johnson at the Kentucky Center for African American Heritage.

KENTUCKY CENTER FOR AFRICAN AMERICAN HERITAGE

Located in the historic Louisville Street Railway Complex, the Kentucky Center for African American Heritage (KCAAH) celebrates the history and contributions of African Americans in Kentucky. Its 68,000-square-foot campus welcomes visitors daily for self-guided tours. Explore historical photos in the Great Hall, browse rotating temporary exhibits, and experience permanent installations such as “Two Centuries of Black Louisville: Civil Rights at a Glance,” “Black Freedom Struggle,” and a compelling tribute to Muhammad Ali. 1701 W. Muhammad Ali Blvd. | kcaah.org

LOCUST GROVE

Join the Guided House Tour at Locust Grove to uncover the lives of the Croghan and Clark families alongside the approximately 100 enslaved people whose skill and labor shaped this historic 19th-century farmstead. In 60 to 90 minutes, experience daily routines, work, and legacy brought vividly to life.

561 Blankenbaker Ln. | locustgrove.org

LOUISVILLE CEMETERY

Louisville Cemetery, established in 1886 for African Americans, is a historic resting place that commemorates the legacies of notable figures. Among them lies Sylvester Weaver, the groundbreaking blues guitarist known as the “Man with the Talking Guitar.” Buried alongside him is blues singer Sara Martin and nearby jug blower Earl McDonald. All three artists are honored by black granite markers featuring pictures and biographies, offering visitors a self-guided tour through the rich history of Louisville Cemetery. 1339 Poplar Level Rd.

LOUISVILLE DOWNTOWN CIVIL RIGHTS TRAIL

A poignant journey through the city’s historic struggle for equality, the Louisville Downtown Civil Rights Trail winds through iconic landmarks, detailing the stories of a series of lunch counter sit-ins and demonstrations in the 1960s that shaped the course of history. It is also a stop on the United States Civil Rights Trail.

The Old Fashioned

Louisville's Official Cocktail

In a city that loves to celebrate Bourbon, it's only fitting that Louisville has an official cocktail made with America's only native spirit. Designated the city's official cocktail in 2015, Louisville celebrates the Old Fashioned annually during Old Fashioned Fortnight, which pays tribute to the legendary libation with Bourbon-themed events and specials around the city. The two-week schedule of events takes place annually, starting on June 1 and concluding on National Bourbon Day, which is June 14. If you're not in Louisville in June, here's how to enjoy the Old Fashioned year-round.

HISTORY

▼ Tom Bullock, The Ideal Bartender

Bullock is honored by the mural (pictured left) painted by Kacy Jackson and located on the front windows of Sway restaurant in the Hyatt Regency Louisville.

The Old Fashioned is said to have been invented in the late 1800s at the Pendennis Club in downtown Louisville. Tom Bullock, who got his start at the Pendennis Club, holds the distinction of being the first African American to pen and publish a cocktail book. Published in 1917, "The Ideal Bartender" features a recipe for "The Old Fashion" along with 172 others, including a Kentucky-style Mint Julep.

ON THE URBAN BOURBON TRAIL®

▼ Fresh Takes on the Old Fashioned

CRAFT YOUR OWN

Mix it Up at a Cocktail Class

Try the "Craft Your Own Cocktail Experience" at the Frazier History Museum (fraziermuseum.org) or the "Perfect Old Fashioned Cocktail Class" at Old Forester Distillery (oldforester.com).

10 FREE & FUN THINGS TO DO

Experience Louisville on a budget. From historic sites and riverfront strolls to art, music, and family fun, these free experiences showcase the city's character, creativity, and charm.

NO. 1 CAUFIELD'S NOVELTY

Caufield's Novelty has been entertaining Louisvillians since 1920. Not only will Caufield's meet all your costume needs, its room of scary animatronics, Zoltar fortune telling machine, and funhouse pranks will entertain the child in everyone. There's also a huge selection of gag gifts — from Groucho glasses to water squirting gum packs. Enjoying the creepy vibes is totally free.

NO. 2 BIG FOUR BRIDGE

Get some fresh air during a stroll or bike ride across the Big Four Bridge. The bicycle and pedestrian bridge spans the Ohio River, connecting Louisville to Jeffersonville, Ind. The two-mile, round-trip journey offers breathtaking views of the city, river, and Waterfront Park. Be sure to take in the bridge's nightly light show, starting every evening at sunset.

NO. 3 CAVE HILL CEMETERY

Visit the final resting place of Louisville's most famous son, Muhammad Ali. Cave Hill Cemetery is a scenic 296-acre Victorian-era National Cemetery & Arboretum. The boxing legend and global humanitarian joins other Kentucky icons, including KFC founder Col. Harland Sanders and Louisville founder George Rogers Clark. Open year-round.

NO. 4 LOUGRASS

Enjoy free, live Bluegrass and Kentucky roots music every weekend, April - October as local venues host the LouGrass music series. Find the schedule of venues and musicians at LouGrassMusic.com.

NO. 5 21C MUSEUM HOTEL

Pop into the 21c Museum Hotel and browse the world-class contemporary art on display by artists from all over the globe. Be sure and snap a selfie with the hotel's signature red penguins or David (inspired by Michelangelo's 16th-century statue).

NO. 6 PLAYPORT

Climb aboard at PlayPort, a one-of-a-kind play area at Waterfront Park that pays homage to the Ohio River's cultural and industrial heritage. Shaded seating areas make it a comfortable stop for families, and the park's scenic riverfront trails are just steps away.

NO. 7 WATERFRONT BOTANICAL GARDENS

Explore Waterfront Botanical Gardens, where you can enjoy thoughtfully curated plant collections, tranquil walking paths, and sweeping views of downtown. The Gardens are open Wed.-Sun. (weekends only in winter).

NO. 8 DAVE ARMSTRONG EXTREME PARK

One of the nation's premier skate parks, Dave Armstrong Extreme Park welcomes skateboarding, in-line skating, and biking for all ages and skill levels. This Metro Park spans 40,000 square feet of outdoor concrete terrain, plus a wooden vert ramp, and its signature 24-foot full pipe. Open 24 hours a day, Dave Armstrong Extreme Park is a must-visit destination for anyone looking to ride, practice, or just take in the action.

NO. 9 IROQUOIS PARK

Immerse yourself in nature with a visit to Iroquois Park, a 739-acre oasis designed by Frederick Law Olmsted. The park boasts a picturesque network of trails that weave through mature woodlands and past stunning vistas. Olmsted's design offers a peaceful retreat with a scenic overlook, picnic areas, and the historic Iroquois Amphitheater. Perfect for hiking, biking, or simply unwinding.

NO. 10 FILSON HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Learn about the history of the Ohio Valley at The Filson Historical Society, home to an extensive collection of original manuscripts, letters, diaries, photographs, architectural records, books, maps, newspapers, and portraits. Free 45-60 minute guided tours are offered Monday and Thursday at 2 pm. Visitors can tour the campus, including the historic Ferguson Mansion, Wood Carriage House, and the Owsley Brown II History Center. Online reservations required for tours.

#LOUISVILLELOVE

from Locals

Let us introduce you to a few locals sharing their #LouisvilleLove and giving you the inside scoop on where they like to eat and drink, what they do for fun, and what they love most about the city.

Bernie Lubbers

What are your favorite local "Eats & Drinks"?

"Pat's Steakhouse, where Pat himself butchers the meat every day. Highlands Bar & Grill for good eats and drinks in a great neighborhood joint with TVs to watch your favorite teams. Bourbon's Bistro for a carefully curated Bourbon section, and you'll find the icons of whiskey seated at the bar. Neat Bourbon Bar is similar in that 'you never know who's going to walk in that front door.' It's the vintage pours that people come in for. There are so many other local gems, like Jack Fry's, Left Field Lounge, and Big Bar."

What's your favorite Louisville attraction or experience?

"It's got to be Churchill Downs. Start with lunch at Check's Café, Kern's Korner, Bambi Bar, or Wagner's Pharmacy, then go hit the track! Nowhere else can you pay $10 and march right up to the finish line and experience some of the world's top athletes. On top of that, you might just leave the track with $500 more in your pocket from a $2 Exacta box wager."

What do you love the most about Louisville?

"If you're bored in Louisville, then it's your own damned fault. Any night, you can enjoy live music or entertainment. Some of my favorite venues for live music are Mellwood Tavern, Z Bar, Whirling Tiger, and Golden Nugget. You can also find out where live bluegrass music is happening around the city at LouGrassMusic.com."

Heaven Hill Global Whiskey Ambassador Emeritus Bernie Lubbers is a musician, stand-up comic, and author. He hosts "Bourbon Through Bluegrass" at the Frazier History Museum, where he brings the stories of Bourbon and Kentucky to life with bluegrass music.

Nicole Burks

What are your favorite local "Eats & Drinks"?

"We work a ton, but during our free time, we love to visit Veronica's Mexican Restaurant. The staff is amazing, and the food is always fresh and consistent. I always order the Birria Platter. It's huge and comes with quesabirria tacos, egg rolls, a personal pizza, and three consomés for dipping."

What's your favorite Louisville attraction or experience?

"Derby and Thunder Over Louisville are two of my favorite attractions. You have to experience both at least once."

What do you love the most about Louisville?

"Community is the best thing about Louisville. You will never meet a stranger, and the food scene is amazing."

What are your favorite local "Eats & Drinks"?

"For Mexican, my favorite is the Hidalgo enchiladas and the barbacoa de borrego at Limón and Sal Mexican Kitchen. In this restaurant, they make corn tortillas by hand, and that is very important when it comes to a Mexican restaurant, so I appreciate it very much. Mexican is my favorite, but Southern food is delicious too. I like The Service Station Restaurant's BBQ Platter and their Service Station Burger."

What's your favorite Louisville attraction or experience?

"Churchill Downs is a great place to visit. They have a museum where you can learn about the history of the place, and they offer a guided tour where you can see the track and the stables. It is also a good feeling to visit the track where the most important horse race in the United States, the Kentucky Derby, is run."

What do you love the most about Louisville?

"The friendliness of the people. It's something very distinctive in Louisville. They always have a smile to give."

Cristobal Resendiz Trejo

Churchill Downs groom Cristobal Trejo has worked with trainer Michael Tomlinson for 31 years. He is featured in the 2025 documentary "Backside."

What are your favorite local "Eats & Drinks"?

"I may be a little biased, but my number one favorite would have to be Blak Koffee's 'Blak Boy Joy' (iced) paired with our homemade chicken salad with grapes, served on a toasted buttery croissant. Outside of Blak Koffee, I absolutely love seafood, so Brendon's Catch 23 at Fourth Street Live! is definitely at the top of my list."

What's your favorite Louisville attraction or experience?

"As a lover of history, one of my favorite places is Roots 101. Mr. Lamont has truly captured the essence of Africa, curating incredible art and relics from the motherland that are always fresh and inspiring. My most cherished experiences are Kentucky Oaks and Derby. I love everything about that first week of May—the fashion, the beautiful hats, the galas, and the electric energy that fills the city."

What do you love the most about Louisville?

"There are so many things I love about Louisville, it's hard to choose just one. First and foremost, I appreciate the affordability of our city, its rich history, and the beautiful Victorian homes that line the streets of Old Louisville. But if I had to pick my absolute favorite aspect, it would be the festivals—from the Kentucky Derby Festival, of course, to the St. James Art Fair, WorldFest, Bourbon & Beyond, and the Kentucky State Fair. Louisville truly knows how to celebrate community and culture!"

Ronyale Smith

Blak Koffee founder and owner Ronyale Smith is an entrepreneur working to create spaces that empower and connect her neighbors.

What are your favorite local "Eats & Drinks"?

"Porcini is a favorite of mine—the food is consistent, the atmosphere is great, and so is the service. I always look forward to Osteria's ever-changing menu. The Village Anchor is a wonderful place to sit outside on a summer night; it feels just like home. All three have excellent staff and incredible service. Of course, every visitor needs to try a Hot Brown, where it was invented—at the Brown Hotel. We serve it for breakfast, lunch, and dinner, and you can even order it from room service."

What's your favorite Louisville attraction or experience?

"I love distillery tours—going to the tasting rooms and discovering a great new spirit. I've lived in Louisville for 23 years, and I still enjoy every trip to Churchill Downs. I always take out-of-town guests to the Muhammad Ali Center; it's a real treasure, especially because you get to see the world through Ali's eyes."

What do you love the most about Louisville?

"I love how friendly people in Louisville are, and how much there is to do. Any night you want to eat at a good restaurant, there's always something new to try. My wife and I enjoy walking on the Big Four Bridge on weekend mornings and going to Waterfront Wednesdays. There's truly always something happening."

Marc Salmon

The Brown Hotel General Manager Marc Salmon has spent 23 years at the landmark property and serves as its official historian.

LOUISVILLE BY DESIGN

ILLUSTRATIONS BY BRI BOWERS

Louisville is well-known for its variety of architectural styles – from traditional to modern to somewhere inbetween. The Victorian mansions of Old Louisville as well as the cast-iron façades of downtown have received national attention for their historical significance and beauty. Just as each neighborhood possesses a unique charm, so do the structures within them. Here is an illustrated guide to some of the architectural wonders you'll find while exploring the city of Louisville.

CAST-IRON FAÇADES

Lining Louisville's West Main Street are some of the oldest buildings in the city, built between the 1850s and the early 1900s. The Revivalist and Chicago-style buildings with cast-iron façades are the largest collection, second only to SoHo in New York City. For a little fun, take a magnet and stick it to the cast-iron façades (to easily identify them, check out the sidewalk bricks in front of the columns, which are placed sideways and flecked with iron).

SHOTGUN HOUSES

Louisville is known for its shotgun houses. You can find them in neighborhoods like Germantown (touted for having the largest collection), Portland, Butchertown, and Clifton. Key components of its design are a narrow, rectangular footprint and a single door with two tall windows in the front. Many of the homes have very small front yards with the home close to the sidewalk or street. The rooms in a shotgun house are accessed by walking through one room to the other.

NEO-GOTHIC

The Cathedral of the Assumption is a significant architectural landmark in downtown Louisville. It's the fourth oldest public building in the city, as well as the third oldest Catholic cathedral in the U.S. in continuous use. The building was built in 1852 and designed in the Neo-Gothic style. The steeple rises 287 feet above the Louisville skyline, and the Coronation window is one of the oldest surviving examples of hand-painted stained glass in the country.

POSTMODERNISM

One of the country's earliest examples of postmodern architecture is the pink granite skyscraper located on Louisville's Main Street. Built in 1985 and designed by Michael Graves, each side of the building is designed slightly different, up to a sloping pyramid style for the upper few floors. The north façade's loggia was designed to replicate the older architectural styles in the area so it would blend in with the original Main Street storefronts. The open-air front portion of the loggia includes a water feature.

VICTORIAN MANSIONS

The Old Louisville neighborhood near downtown and the University of Louisville is a registered historic district that owns the bragging rights of having the largest collection of restored Victorian mansions in the country. You'll find more than 40 city blocks of Victorian-era homes in a variety of styles, including Beaux Arts, Chateausque, Italianate, Neoclassical, and Queen Anne.

TUDOR REVIVAL

Based on the 17th-century Elizabethan architecture in England, this style resembles an English country cottage. It's easily identified by its characteristic half-timbering, a decorative treatment that appears to expose structural elements. The style was one of the more popular of early 20th-century styles in Louisville in neighborhoods like Upper Clifton, Cherokee, and Seneca Gardens.

BUTCHERTOWN

One of Louisville's oldest neighborhoods, Butchertown, just east of downtown, was the city's original meatpacking district with butcher shops dominating the area in the 1800s.

These days, though one large meatpacker still anchors the area, Butchertown is in the middle of a renaissance and is seeing an influx of tasty restaurants, chic boutiques, the city's only brandy distillery, and a state-of-the-art stadium.

EAT & DRINK

Start your morning at Butchertown Grocery Bakery, a European-style bakery where the bread and pastries are made fresh daily, or the café at Haymarket, which offers coffee, cold-pressed juices, smoothies, breakfast items, and sandwiches.

For a locally sourced meal with a unique twist, try Naïve Latin-Inspired Kitchen + Bar or Decade for New American cuisine with Italian and French influences. For handmade pasta, wood-fired pizza, and craft cocktails, there's Pizza Lupo. YachtSea is famous for what locals call the best piña colada in town. Try one with their oysters and gourmet hot dogs. For more tropical vibes, there's also South Seas Tiki & Golf Lounge, a cantina and tiki bar with mini golf, live music, and patio seating. MoonDog is known for its Vietnamese specialties and Saigon street food favorites like bánh mì sandwiches. Chick'n & Mi specializes in Asian-inspired Southern comfort food, including a fun twist on fried chicken. Cultured, a cheese and charcuterie bar, features local and unique farmstead cheeses, charcuterie, and a dynamic selection of carefully curated wines, beer, and Bourbon. CURED Restaurant & Salumeria offers cocktails and locally sourced meats that are house-cured by owner and artisan Alvio Lapinet. Get in line early at Big Nita's Cheesecakes for one of their uber popular desserts.

For beer, try TEN20 Craft Brewery, offering a beer garden and an indoor taproom with a taqueria and pizzeria on site. Or whet your whistle at Sergio's World Beers with more than 1,000 options. For Scotch whiskey, visit Tartan House, a cozy lounge specializing in both classic and house cocktails.

DISCOVER

Butchertown is home to Bourbon City's only brandy distillery, Copper & Kings. Take a tour before enjoying classic cocktails at Copper & Kings Rooftop Bar, boasting stunning views of downtown Louisville.

Play Dance Bar, Louisville's largest LGBTQ nightclub, is the neighborhood hot spot for drag shows and dance parties. For live music, visit The Whirling Tiger. For some vintage bowling, Vernon Lanes is the place to roll. The historic bowling alley's eight wooden lanes are newly refurbished, but maintain a cool retro vibe, and the menu is worth a visit on its own. Or, catch a professional soccer game at Lynn Family Stadium, home to women's soccer team, Racing Louisville FC, men's team, Louisville City FC, and the city's newest team, the Louisville Kings, part of the United Football League. For X Games-style fun, David Armstrong Extreme Park features 40,000 square feet of outdoor concrete skating surface, as well as a 24-foot full pipe and a wooden vert ramp.

Named the Best Riverwalk in the U.S. by USA Today's 2025 Readers' Choice Awards, Waterfront Park offers art, history, and recreation. For stunning views, walk across the Big Four Bridge, spanning the Ohio River and connecting Kentucky and Indiana. Explore public art installations, including Ed Hamilton's "Lincoln Memorial," or enjoy multiple playgrounds and picnic areas throughout. You can also connect with nature at the Waterfront Botanical Gardens, offering views of downtown Louisville.

A walk through this neighborhood is an architectural delight—from the iconic steeples of St. Joseph Catholic Church (built in 1866) to the one-room Thomas Edison House and the modest shotgun houses mixed among more highly styled Italianates and Victorians with Eastlake details.

SHOP

Butchertown Market is a one-stop shop for a little retail therapy. You'll find clothing, jewelry, home décor, and one-of-a-kind gifts at Work the Metal. Moss Hill makes handcrafted lotions, soaps, and candles with specialty scents like Bourbon and Mint Julep. At Bourbon Barrel Foods, you can pick up Bourbon barrel smoked spices, small-batch soy sauce aged in Bourbon barrels, and specialty bitters after taking a tour of the facility.

Master Milliner Jenny Pfanenstiel creates some of the standout hats of each Derby season at her shop, Formé Millinery Co. Just around the corner, you'll find Hard Times Collective, a vintage shop filled with eclectic goods made by local vendors. For creatives, check out PYRO Gallery, an artist cooperative with more than 20 artists who work across a variety of media.

Hadley Pottery has been handcrafting American pottery since 1940 and features a whimsical collection of everything from platters and plates to mugs and bowls. You'll note its many uses as decorative plaques among the houses and sidewalks of this historic neighborhood.

Take a stroll along Frankfort Avenue, the main thoroughfare through the leafy and charming Crescent Hill and Clifton neighborhoods. You'll find historic homes and buildings, tree-lined streets, alfresco dining, and locally owned shops peppering this railroad-lined avenue and one of the city's noted "Restaurant Rows."

EAT & DRINK

Start your day at any one of the many outstanding breakfast and brunch locations on Frankfort Avenue. Grab a croissant at Blue Dog Bakery, known for their authentic artisan breads (Levain!). Try the huevos rancheros at James Beard-nominated Con Huevos, a burrito con huevos at Good Morning Breakfast & Lunch, biscuits and gravy at Eggs Over Frankfort, or settle in for a leisurely brunch at Morning Fork.

The Manhattan Project is a great place to catch the big game with elevated pub food and craft cocktails. Craving pizza? Head to New York Pizza Company or Parlour. For burgers and shakes, try SmashD. Red Hog highlights locally sourced meats on a rotating seasonal menu. For sushi, there's cozy Osaka. For Vietnamese favorites like pho and banh mi, there's Eatz Vietnamese Restaurant. At Miki's Karaoke Bar & Korean Restaurant you'll find casual Korean food, and Kiwa offers Louisville's only Korean teahouse.

Among other local favorites are Caffe Classico (a European cafe), Kayrouz Delicatessen (chili and hearty sandwiches), Porcini (fine Northern Italian cuisine), Irish Rover (authentic Irish pub grub), Bourbons Bistro (known for its Bourbon-inspired dishes), Volare (authentic Italian), Varanese (Mediterranean and American), The Grape Leaf (Mediterranean), Adelita (Mexican), and Mesh (innovative American fine dining).

Need a sugar fix? Head to Bae's Bakery for cookies, brownies, and cakes or Pinnamel Patisserie & Café for pastries as beautiful as they are delicious. Gelato Gilberto specializes in artisan ice cream with an Italian flair, while Retta's serves ice cream by the scoop and whiskey by the drink. Please & Thank You bakes what's touted as the country's best chocolate chip cookie and is among the neighborhood's many unique coffee shops.

Other java joints include Abol Café, an Ethiopian coffee shop; Quills Coffee, a light-filled community gathering spot; Hotel Marty, a mixed-use space with artisanal brews; Heine Brothers' Coffee, offering a large covered and heated patio; Witches Brew Coffee, where you can get a Tarot card reading with your Dragon's Blood Latte; and sister shops Crescent Hill Coffee and SuperTonic Elixir Café, next to Carmichael's Books, where you can read a spell while watching trains roll along. To start the evening or top off the night, the options are vast. Sip fine vintages and enjoy live jazz at The Wine Room by JBell Wine Co., or keep things casual at Gallant Fox Brewing Company or Apocalypse Brew Works, both

EAST LOUISVILLE

Louisville's eastern suburbs, mostly located between the Watterson Expressway (I-264) and the Gene Snyder Freeway (I-265), are home to thriving communities like St. Matthews, Jeffersonton, Middletown, and Norton Commons. Each East Louisville community features some of the city's top restaurants, plenty of shopping and indoor recreation, and countless outdoor activities.

ST. MATTHEWS EAT & DRINK

Breakfast lovers will delight in several options including neighborhood favorites Cheddar Box Too and Highland Morning. Or get your Biscuit Belly on with the St. Matthews location of this growing local business. All three spots have breakfast versions of Louisville's famous sandwich—the Hot Brown. New to the neighborhood, Nepalese coffee shop Phalcha is known for its stunning and delicious coffee flights.

For over 100 years, Plehn's Bakery has been making donuts, cakes, bread, and more. You can even grab a pimento cheese or Benedictine sandwich at their old-fashioned lunch counter for a taste of nostalgia. For lunch or dinner, Elderberry Provisions offers casual, gourmet grab-and-go.

World flavors abound from ToGo Sushi in Lyndon; Cuban staples like ropa vieja at Mojito in Havana; a modern twist on Asian classics at District 6; Vietnamese quick service at NamNam Café; and the best of Thailand, including all spice levels of satay and pad thai, at Simply Thai.

Keeping it stateside and Southern are Lou Lou Food + Drink, with their twist on Louisville-meets-Louisiana, and Black Rabbit, a speakeasy where you can enjoy cocktails and dishes like fried chicken with sawmill gravy. Bourbon & Burgers has all its name implies, along with delectable boozy shakes.

The center of St. Matthews is known for its nightlife and concentration of walkable bars and pubs. Listen to live music at Tin Roof or Gerstle's, one of the city's oldest bars. Rack 'em up at The Fox Den, or take in the local pub feel of Drake's and Saints Pizza Pub & SkyBar.

At Westport Village, you'll find many locally-owned, independent restaurants. For breakfast, there's Wild Eggs and North Lime Coffee & Donuts. Boombozz Pizza & Watch Bar is perfect for game day or casual dining; Hiko-a-Mon serves sushi and hibachi dishes; Jade Palace specializes in dim sum and Chinese classics; Los Aztecas for Mexican favorites; Steak & Bourbon for hand-cut steaks and an extensive Bourbon list; and Osteria Italian Seafood brings coastal flavors to the heart of Louisville. Comfy Cow serves handcrafted ice creams, and Westport Whiskey & Wine is a go-to destination for Bourbon lovers. Heading farther east toward Middletown, find authentic French fare at Brasserie Provence.

St. Matthews is filled with scenic parks, including Seneca Park, part of the city-wide park system designed by Frederick Law Olmsted, 17-acre Robson Park, 28-acre Brown Park, and 45-acre St. Matthews Community Park. For indoor fun, there's Dave & Buster's, an arcade, bar and restaurant; Ten Pin Strike & Spare Family Fun Center; Kentucky's first Topgolf, a three-story golf-entertainment complex; and Puttshack, a tech-infused mini-golf experience, at Oxmoor Center.

SHOP

At Chenoweth Square, you'll find several local boutiques. Pick up fashions and accessories at Mamili, Merci, and Lemon Tree. For home décor, there's Fleur de Lis. Find unique gifts at Cartwheels Paper & Gifts.

Nearby is Colonial Designs, a local favorite for flowers, fashions and home décor; The Rocking Horse children's boutique; Trace Mayer Antiques; and The Hat Girls, where you can pick out a Derby fascinator or hat.

Westport Village is home to more than a dozen independent boutiques and specialty stores. For women's fashion, there's Apricot Lane Boutique, Collections, Darling State of Mind, and Tunie's. For home décor, there's Bliss Home and Summer Classics. For children and the young at heart, there's Golden Keep Game Company, Milk & Honey, and Playthings. Specialty shops include Sea Love, a make-your-own candle bar and boutique, and Zi Olive, a premium oil and vinegar shop. For your furry friends, there's Three Dog Bakery.

Head farther east for larger shopping centers and malls (Mall St. Matthews, Oxmoor Center, and The Paddock Shops, an outdoor shopping center) featuring national names.

MIDDLETOWN EAT & DRINK

Whether you are looking for a quaint lunch spot with good food or a unique local barbeque joint, you can satisfy your appetite at one of many Middletown restaurants. Popular lunch spots with Southern flavor are Cheddar Box Café or Cottage Café along historic Main Street. Foodies will enjoy the adventurous small plates and wine pairings at LouVino. Rumors has been attracting locals for over 30 years with their fresh seafood and wings. Enjoy live music at Barrel 33 and The Blind Squirrel, which also has a dancefloor and three sand volleyball courts. Hyderabad House serves casual Indian, and VinBun Vietnamese Bistro serves banh mi, pho, and more. Several local favorites have brought their popular cuisine to Middletown, like Simply Thai and Havana Rumba.

Looking for a pizza to share? Head to local pizzerias Bearno's, Coal's Artisan Pizza, or Impellizzeri's (order the breadsticks—trust us). Barbecue fans need to plan a visit to Mark's Feed Store, where they have been serving famous barbecue and sauces since 1988.

New American restaurant The House of Marigold serves breakfast and lunch, offering an ever-changing menu of locally sourced cuisine.

DISCOVER

Middletown is a vibrant suburb that offers small-town charm. Find restored cottages that are home to friendly, locally owned shops and restaurants. Explore the town's centuries-old history at Middletown Historical Museum, or get outdoors at Beckley Creek Park (part of The Parklands of Floyds Fork), which features a community garden, walking trails, picnic areas, and a fishing lake, as well as agricultural fields at the site of a former distillery.

SHOP

Don't forget to browse the boutiques along Middletown's historic Main Street. Chick A D's sells a wide variety of gifts, Gather, featuring women's accessories and home décor. Unique fashions, jewelry, home décor, and gifts can be found at Two Chicks & Company Boutique. Find all things Kentucky at A Taste of Kentucky, or discover treasures at Red Barn Antique & Art Emporium.

JEFFERSONTOWN EAT & DRINK

Come dinnertime, plan a night of "games, grains (beer and Bourbon), and grub" at Rechar or line up for the popular burgers at Mussel & Burger Bar. Located in historic Gaslight Square in an 1878 church, 3rd Turn Brewing is a pub-style gathering spot with 20 taps. Barcelona Bistro Bar offers tapas, paella, sangria, and other Spanish treats.

DISCOVER

Year round, visitors can explore Kentucky's natural legacy and early settlement history at Blackacre, Kentucky's first State Nature Preserve. The 170-acre farm and 1785 homestead includes an 18th-century cottage, spring house, barn, and pre-Civil War farmhouse. Indoor family fun is found at Malibu Jack's, Activate Games, and Kingpin Lanes. Ride go-karts and throw axes at Full Throttle Adrenaline Park.

GERMANTOWN & SCHNITZELBURG

Germantown and Schnitzelburg were shaped by waves of German immigrants who first settled into the neighborhood in the mid-1800s, leaving behind a legacy visible in one of the country's largest collections of shotgun houses and the many taverns. A popular local saying is that there's a dive bar on every corner. These neighborhoods blend old and new, preserving the classics while also welcoming many new trendy bars and restaurants.

EAT & DRINK

Kick off your morning at Big Bad Breakfast or Bean, where you can watch them roast your coffee beans before exploring the neighborhood. There's also Breakfast AF and Pizza AF for delicious eats and dessert next door at Baked AF on Goss. Nepalese coffee shop Phalcha is a great spot for a creative beverage flight morning or night.

Full Stop is your one-stop shop for basics from coffee, burgers, and everything in between. Hammerheads' selection of house-smoked meats and duck-fat fries has attracted a huge following to this tiny restaurant. Look for the stuffed hammerhead shark just above the entrance.

Four Pegs Smokehouse & Bar is a welcoming gastropub that serves smoked foods and inventive dishes for carnivores and vegetarians alike and is located in a historic building that's been a landmark in Germantown for 150 years. Local favorite Check's Café has been a Germantown neighborhood tradition for more than 60 years. It's the kind of place where cold beer and inexpensive, tasty food (German and American dishes) go hand in hand. Rolled oysters or fried bologna, anyone?

Hauck's Corner is also one of the most historic sites in the area. Opened as Hauck's Handy Store in 1912, this is where the World Championship Dainty Contest got its start (keep reading). Its menu includes classics like the bologna sandwiches and beer that made the original Hauck's a local favorite.

If you have a taste for Italian, head to Sarino for fresh pasta. Or, order up a slice of New York-style pizza at The Post. Dine while seated in an oversized Bourbon barrel at North of Bourbon, one of The New York Times' 50 Favorite Restaurants in 2024. Their menu, with expansive Bourbon offerings spilling over five pages, celebrates the connection between New Orleans and Louisville forged by the exporting of Bourbon downriver.

New to the neighborhood are Jaymar Japanese Grill & Sushi and Franny's, which specializes in fresh oysters. For ice cream, there's newcomer We Scream Ice Cream, while neighborhood classics Dairy Kastle and Dairy Del have been Louisville summer traditions for decades. If you're here during the warm weather months, pop by their walk-up counters for a soft serve ice cream, chili dogs and other summer treats that'll serve up nostalgia with the yumminess.

Looking for something out of the ordinary that tastes extraordinary? Stop by Nord's

Bakery for one of their legendary maple bacon doughnuts. For craft beer enthusiasts, Awry Brewing offers a full array of brews from ales to kombucha, a pub grub menu, and a rooftop patio, providing a perfect vantage point for soaking in the Germantown neighborhood. Monnik Beer Co. is a Schnitzelburg gathering place with twenty taps and a full menu, including vegetarian and vegan options. The newest addition to the neighborhood's brewery scene, Hop Atomica brews an extensive range of beers and offers a menu featuring wood-fired pizzas, salads, and sandwiches. For nightlife, Zanzabar has established a reputation among locals for being a go-to live music venue featuring both local and national acts. It's also home to a vintage arcade. The Merryweather hosts a rotation of unique pop-up food vendors, from Lou Oyster Cult to Huddy Dawgs, and has a full-service bar that's open late. Karaoke enthusiasts will appreciate 21st in Germantown, where you can sing seven nights a week. Spin the drinks wheel at The Pearl of Germantown if you're feeling indecisive, and enjoy tunes on the jukebox or live DJs on the weekend. Relax on the roomy patio at Nachbar, a laid-back dive bar.

DISCOVER

Since 1971, Schnitzelburg has been home to the annual World Championship Dainty Contest in July. In this imported German game, players (who must be 45 or older) use a broomstick handle to hit a wood dainty. Whoever hits their stick the farthest down Lydia Street wins.

SHOP

There is a trove of vintage and vinyl treasures to be found in this area. The Nitty Gritty is a classic vintage and costume shop that has been outfitting locals for decades. It anchors a row of brightly painted shops along Barret Avenue where you'll find Fat Rabbit Thrift & Vintage, Barret Babes, Ultra-Pop, Art Savvy Gallery, Butcher Cabin Books, which specializes in horror, Goldheart: Stones and Such, Derby City Market, and Grady Goods, which features gifts made by local artisans. Around the corner, find Artist & Craftsman Supply. Really Good Vintage, on Texas Ave., well, the name says it all. Over on Goss Ave., find even more vintage at The Neon Flea and What the Lou, the latter giving '80s MTV vibes with its records, rock tees, live music, comedy shows, and zine launches.

THE HIGHLANDS

The Highlands is home to Louisville's original "Restaurant Row" and is also known for local nightlife and shopping. Between restaurants, bars, boutiques, and galleries, you'll also find inviting retreats in the many independent coffee and tea shops. With its Victorian homes and turn-of-the-century architecture, the Highlands is as quirky as it is charming.

EAT & DRINK

Kick off your culinary adventure with Latin-inspired dishes at Seviche, where you'll find celebrity chef Anthony Lamas whipping up his signature delights. La Suerte beckons with authentic Mexican fare, and taco aficionados will want to try Taco City, Tacos D Amor, and Noche Mexican BBQ.

Heart & Soy/Roots elevates plant-based Asian dining. For sushi, try Dragon King's Daughter, Sapporo, Daisuki, or Yi Sushi Omakase. HaiFry serves Osaka-style Japanese cuisine, and GOGi 1055 Korean BBQ is perfect for barbecue enthusiasts who want to grill their own meats. For noodles, there's Kiwami Ramen and Pho Cafe.

At the elegant ROC, enjoy flavors from owner Rocco Cadolini's native Sorrento, Italy. Paseo prepares Southern European-inspired dishes in their wood-fired oven. For a French menu, M. Peppers is a delightful bistro. Kashmir is a longtime favorite for Indian. Hurry for Curry serves Nepalese, Tibetan, and Indian dishes, and Mom's Kitchen A.K.A. KOKO + RAE serves fast, casual Indian favorites and Caribbean cuisine. Fat Lamb Modern Kitchen & Bar features American cuisine with Mediterranean and Southern influences. For more casual, but equally delicious, Mediterranean, try Shiraz. Jack Fry's, a Louisville icon, charms diners with its upscale Southern-inspired dishes. There's also fried chicken-forward The Eagle. Locals swear by the green chili wontons at Bristol Bar & Grille.

Good Belly is a New York deli-inspired sandwich shop with a "from-scratch" kitchen. Drip n Dough has gourmet hot dogs, coffee, and doughnuts. Pizza lovers will want to try a pie at Impellizzeri's, Wheated, or Spinelli's, which is open late. Sink your teeth into a burger or grab a scoop of homemade ice cream at 80/20 @ Kaelin's. If you can't decide on one cuisine, sample from the extensive international menu at Ramsi's Café on the World.

Cap off your culinary adventure with a sweet treat from "The Cookie Lady" at Kizito Cookies, gâteaux from La Pâtisserie Française, or homemade goodness from Georgia's Sweet Potato Pie Company.

Indulge in the delightful world of bubble tea at Fun Boba Tea, The Bep Teahouse, Tiger Sugar, and Boba Tea & Ice Cream. The local brew culture offers an array of options, including Big Rock Bar & Brewery, Mile Wide Beer Co., Pints & Union, River City Drafthouse, and Rose Hill Lagerhaus. Holy Grale, a gastropub located in a 1905 former Unitarian church, has rare beers from around the world. Next door, Bar Grale serves natural wines, and Grale Goods offers breakfast and baked goods. Stop in to Gralehaus for coffee or brunch.

The Highlands' nightlife is legendary with clusters of bars and clubs within walking distance of one another. Beyond the Sun offers nightly live music and entertainment from top DJs while serving steaks, pasta, and seafood. The Hub is a favorite late-night dance spot. The 1920s-inspired Neat Bourbon Bar & Bottle Shop serves 200+ varieties of Bourbon. With its elegant Art Nouveau décor, Darling's is a lovely spot for a handcrafted cocktail. Epiphany is a craft cocktail bar bringing farm-to-table to the beverage world. The Louisville Cigar Company has a full bar and heated patio. Chill Bar and Big Bar are two of the neighborhood's popular LGBTQ bars. The Highlands is also home to several Irish pubs, including Molly Malone's, O'Shea's, Flanagan's, and Shenanigans.

DISCOVER

If you're looking for adventure, there's Louisville Mega Cavern, home to underground zip lines and a ropes course. For more family fun, visit the Louisville Zoo. Hike, stroll, picnic, or just relax at Tyler Park and Cherokee Park, a 400-acre park designed in 1891 by Frederick Law Olmsted. Take a walk through 296 acres at Cave Hill Cemetery and Arboretum, the final resting place of Muhammad Ali and Colonel Harland Sanders.

SHOP

Bardstown Road is lined with unique, locally owned shops. For fashionistas, there's BAZ and BEA, Clay & Cotton, Discoveries, Pitaya, and Surprise Lily. If you're shopping for vintage, there's Acorn Apparel, The Capsule, The Groovy Aura, hey tiger, and Vintage Banana. For art enthusiasts, Edenside Gallery and Enchanted Elm Arts & Gifts showcase local talent. Leatherhead has been offering quality leather goods for over half a century, and Electric Ladyland has been a psychedelic beacon since 1978, the same year Carmichael's Bookstore was established. Music lovers will want to visit Better Days East, Book & Music Exchange, Guest Room Records, Matt Anthony's Record Shop, Surface Noise, and The Great Escape.

NULU

The East Market District of downtown, called NuLu (New Louisville), is known for its unique art galleries, specialty stores, antique shops, and award-winning culinary scene named one of “The Best Food Neighborhoods in the USA” by AFAR in 2024.

EAT & DRINK

Start your day at Quills Coffee located in a 19th-century firehouse or at Please & Thank You, a café and record shop nationally known for its chocolate chip cookies. Biscuit Belly serves hearty biscuit sandwiches with Southern twists. For something fresh, there’s Jump Start Smoothies or Cherry Pickin’ for cold-pressed juice.

For lunch or casual dinner, there’s Feast BBQ and Royals Hot Chicken, both of which serve Ale-8-One Bourbon slushies. House-ground, grass-fed burgers are served alongside 75+ Bourbons at Grind Burger Kitchen. While strolling through the neighborhood, stop by Louisville Cream for a cone of premium small-batch ice cream.

NuLu boasts one of Louisville’s hottest dining scenes, including MeeshMeesh Mediterranean. You’ll need a reservation, but this Levantine-focused restaurant is worth the wait. Sake a Gogo serves sushi, sashimi, and sake in an elevated setting. Bar Vetti serves house-made pasta and seasonal shared plates. For fast casual Italian street food, try Pasta Garage. Locals rave about the wok-seared lima beans from Mayan Café, and the chocolate “cigar” at La Bodeguita de Mima Cuban Restaurant & Rum Bar. For a New Orleans experience, Lou Lou on Market serves Cajun and has live jazz in their speakeasy, The Stave. At Hotel Genevieve, look behind the yellow door in the Mini Marché for a speakeasy called Jimmy Can’t Dance or head to the sixth floor for rooftop views and cocktails at Bar Genevieve. Other NuLu rooftop spots where the views will rival the food and drinks include Guacamole Modern Mexican and High Stakes Rooftop Grill.

NuLu Marketplace offers many options, including Emmy Squared Pizza, Tacos D Amor, and Circa 1856. Mashup Food Hall, a massive new dining destination, brings together a diverse lineup of local favorites and newcomers, including 721 Mint It juice bar, Barcelona Bistro Express, Cold Smoke Bagels, Dripped & Drizzled, Nexus Bar Bites, Red Top Hot Dogs, Mable’s Southern Kitchen, and Wiltshire Pantry, all anchored by a central bar.

NuLu is filled with bars and lounges to suit any mood. Garage Bar is a casual neighborhood spot where ping pong matches are in full swing on the patio. Nouvelle Bar & Bottle serves more than 40 varieties by the glass, and Bar Nada Nada features all natural wines. Taj Louisville has signature drinks, live music, and Karaoke. Galaxie is a light-filled watering hole and late-night dance spot. For an intimate experience, check out Jane, known for inventive cocktails, or Seven, a chic spot perfect for late-night drinks. For a retro neighborhood watering hole, head to High Horse Bar. For craft brew devotees, Akasha Brewing Co., Goodwood Brewing Co., Gravelly, and West Sixth Brewing are all part of Louisville's thriving beer scene.

DISCOVER

Try indoor rock climbing at Climb NuLu or tee up on a PGA Tour venue at Five Iron Golf with TrackMan golf simulators. Enjoy an authentic Bourbon experience at Angel's Envy or Rabbit Hole Distillery, where you can take tours, capped off with guided tastings. At Whiskey Thief Distilling Co., you can try straight-from-the-barrel unfiltered whiskey. Located in a newly renovated 145-year-old church, Bob Dylan's Heaven's Door Bourbon brand has recently established The Last Refuge. Visit for live music, a bar and restaurant all in an exquisite venue. At Taste Fine Wines & Bourbons, you can sample before you buy at the tasting bar. Visit The Craftery for DIY crafting and drinks. During the warmer months, catch a minor league Louisville Bats baseball game at nearby Louisville Slugger Field.

SHOP

East Market Street is peppered with local shops, including Peace of the Earth (locally-made bath products), Muth's Candies (home of the famous Modjeska), Red Tree (home furnishings), Revelry (jewelry, art, apparel, and more by local artists), Six Sisters Boutique (women's clothing and accessories), Woman-Owned Wallet (feminist gift shop), Sugar Town Vintage (known for their renowned Mystery Outfit Bags), Jones & Daughters (clothing, home goods and gifts), Hazel + Hunt (men's and women's casual apparel), and Evergreen Liquors (full-service liquor shop). If you can't decide whether to shop, have a cocktail, or explore Louisville lore, visit Clayton & Crume. Inside their flagship store, you'll find the bar Stitch, named for Rudell Stich and located in the same space where he and Muhammad Ali once sparred.

OLD LOUISVILLE

Old Louisville is known for having the largest collection of restored Victorian homes in the country and is one of the largest historic preservation districts in the United States.

Built as a suburb in the 1870s, this neighborhood consists of more than 40 city blocks of Victorian-era homes—considered some of the oldest, largest, and most beautifully preserved homes in the city.

Amid the rich architecture of this community, you'll also find a high concentration of quaint bed and breakfasts, inns, and unique dining options surrounded by the beauty of mature magnolia and oak trees.

EAT & DRINK

610 Magnolia is considered one of the city's finest restaurants. Chef-owner Edward Lee (a James Beard Award-winner who starred on "Iron Chef America" and "Top Chef") blends European techniques with seasonal, local, and organic products during a six-course, prix-fixe dinner. Buck's Restaurant & Bar combines European luxury and modern style with linen tablecloths, artfully mismatched china, white flowers adorning the bar, and live piano music nightly in the historic Mayflower building.

Burger Boy, open 24/7 with a full breakfast menu, is a classic diner perfect for the first or the last meal of the day. For burgers, barbecue, and Southern comfort food, you can fill up at The Service Station, a full-service restaurant located in a former fueling station.

A Louisville institution since 1947, Dizzy Whizz is famous for their Whizzburger, a double-decker hamburger with a secret special sauce. Old Louisville Tavern is known for their hand-patty burgers and house-cut fries. For a nostalgic jaunt, walk up to the cash-only trolley car to place your order for a tasty burger at Ollie's Trolley, one of two remaining locations in the country. The Granville Pub, established in 1939, is another longtime favorite, where you can get a great burger and also watch a game, play pool or darts, and listen to live music.

Mag Bar is also a neighborhood classic where you can listen to live music while enjoying drinks and bar bites. If you're craving soul food, Lucretia's Kitchen is a must-stop for homestyle comfort food. For Indian, head to family-owned-and-operated Jimmy's Corner Market, where "Mom" prepares classic dishes in the kitchen.

For Middle Eastern, Falafel Oasis is an excellent choice. Craft beer lovers will want to visit Old Louisville Brewery, a microbrewery and neighborhood community hangout, and Noble Funk Brewing Company, where you'll also find Noble Hearth Craft Pizza.

Another neighborhood pizza spot is Pizza Donisi. Birdie & Vi's is a friendly vintage store with a patio and casual bar, where the owners spin vinyl for the customers while their lazy cat naps. Fleur de Tea offers carefully sampled and sourced teas from around the

For lovers of the Bard, check out Kentucky Shakespeare, presenters of one of the longest-running free Shakespeare festivals in the country. Check out nightly performances during the summer at Frederick Law Olmsted-designed Central Park. Each fall, they also offer a spooky ticketed event at their Old Louisville headquarters.

Stop in and admire the architecture at the Louisville Free Public Library. At the Speed Art Museum, art lovers of all ages can see paintings and sculptures from around the world. Kentucky's oldest and largest art museum hosts special events each month and includes an outdoor sculpture park, piazza, and a restaurant, est. 1927 by Marigold, whose name pays tribute to the date the museum was established.

History buffs will want to tour the Conrad-Caldwell House, with its ornate stained glass and handcrafted woodwork, and take in the programming at The Filson Historical Society.

Louisville Memorial Auditorium offers rich history and architectural beauty while hosting a variety of concerts and stage productions. Also, check out Old Louisville's variety of walking tours with themes from historical to architectural to ghostly, where you can see neighborhood landmarks like the "Pink Palace" and the Witches' Tree.

PORTLAND

Located on the banks of the Ohio River on the western edge of downtown, Portland has a history deeply tied to the river. In its early years, the neighborhood was an independent river city that served as a port for the boats transporting people and goods around the Falls of the Ohio. During that time period, Portland's bustling commercial activity attracted many new residents to the area. Today, this growing neighborhood is once again attracting new businesses and residents.

EAT & DRINK

A good way to start the day in this historic neighborhood is with a Cup of Joy. Coffee, baked goods, biscuits and gravy, and lunch are on hand at this nonprofit local ministry. In fact, Portland offers other community-minded culinary adventures as well.

Everyone has a place and diners pay what they can afford at The Table. Run by volunteers, the restaurant serves lunch Monday through Friday and offers classic soup, salad, and sandwiches. Annie's Pizza is a popular neighborhood spot for casual eat-in or carry-out dining.

For a traditional butcher shop with custom hand-cut and carefully prepared meats, as well as traditional deli sandwiches, visit family-owned Galan's Meat Market & Deli.

Catering company Porkland BBQ is open for a dine-in fish fry and barbecue every Friday for lunch and dinner with all proceeds supporting the nonprofit Love City Inc.

The Sally Forth Taproom is a friendly neighborhood spot where you'll find a variety of lunch and dinner specials and local craft beer on tap, including those brewed at the adjoining Shippingport Brewing Co., which takes its name from Shippingport Island, a stopping point centuries ago for cargo boats on the Ohio River near the Falls of the Ohio. Owner and brewer Amelia Pillow has created a warm and homey space for the neighborhood and visitors alike who flock to the weekly trivia nights for a brew and a hot-pressed sandwich.

DISCOVER

Located at the Ninth Street underpass, The Louisville Knot is a standout piece of Louisville's Public Art. This giant sculpture of the city's name makes for a highly Instagrammable setting and marks the entrance to Portland.

Portland's tradition of fierce independence is exemplified at Peerless Distilling Co., which is operated by the fourth and fifth generations of the Kraver/Taylor family. Book a distillery tour or tasting to sample their fine Bourbons and ryes.

On the Louisville Riverwalk, you'll find public art installations by (Un)Known Project, "On the Banks of Freedom" and "In Our Elders' Footprints," which pay tribute to formerly enslaved Kentuckians and their passage to freedom. Visitors can use their cell

phones to engage in a free augmented reality experience titled "Footprints Through Time."

The Portland Museum is a magnet for history buffs. The museum uses models, life-sized characters, photographs, and film to tell the story of the former river town. During a tour, you'll learn about the Falls of the Ohio, Portland Wharf, and how the canal was built, along with some fascinating facts from a bygone era. Just a block away, you'll find the Outsider Art Museum & Gallery, which opened in late 2023 with an inaugural exhibition featuring the art of Louisvilleian Mark Anthony Mulligan and has recently installed a 25-foot sculpture of a blue horse draped in 130 clocks, titled "The Messenger: Time." E&S Gallery Inc. is a nationally renowned African American-owned and -operated fine art and custom framing gallery.

For a little outdoor adventure, Lannan Memorial Park offers baseball, tennis, and basketball and features scenic river views of the Portland Canal. The Portland Wharf Park is home to a walking path and trails. Watch riverboats "lock" through the Falls of the Ohio from a viewing station at the McAlpine Locks and Dam Visitors Area. PlayPort, the newest addition to Waterfront Park, pays homage to the area's cultural and industrial heritage with Ohio River-themed playground equipment. For indoor fun, visit the 13,000-square-foot Sprak Skatepark, which boasts a one-of-a-kind custom-built street course and a 40' wide mini ramp that's fun for everyone from beginners to professionals.

Nearby, the United States Marine Hospital is a National Historic Landmark and is noted by the National Park Service as the best remaining antebellum hospital in the country. The exterior of this Greek Revival landmark and its historical marker are easily accessible, but the interior is closed to the public.

You can enjoy an arts and cultural experience at Louisville Visual Arts and The Dolfinger studios. For shopping or design-inspiration browsing, the showroom at Barry Wooley Designs is filled with unique furniture, artwork, and accessories.

Since 1920, Caufield's Novelty Shop has been the heartbeat of Halloween in Louisville. The shop sells unique party decorations and costumes for all occasions throughout the year. Muhammad Ali was a frequent customer, and Lance Burton and Mac King both worked there when they were aspiring magicians.

SHELBY PARK AND SMOKETOWN

A historically Black neighborhood since the Civil War, named for the numerous smoke-producing kilns that once fired bricks in Smoketown and for the centerpiece 16-acre Shelby Park designed by Frederick Law Olmsted, the Smoketown and Shelby Park neighborhoods, located southeast of downtown, are diverse and vibrant art-filled communities.

EAT & DRINK

The walk-up window at La Pana Bakery & Cafe, featuring Oaxacan-inspired pastries, is perfect for grabbing a quick coffee, breakfast, or snack. Just around the corner, their sister restaurant FOKO serves fresh Mexican and American-Southern fusion for breakfast and lunch with cafecitos, fresh juices, and matcha teas. Cuban café and cocktail bar Sweet Colada is one of the latest contributions Louisville's thriving Cuban community has made to the dining and cultural scene. Also new to the neighborhood is La Guanaquita 2, the second location of a popular local Salvadoran and Honduran restaurant. For a double cheeseburger and fries so good it has a cultlike following, head over to Toasty's Tavern, where they also make a mean Bánh mì dog and have vegan options on the menu. For a fully vegan menu, try Shahar, which also has a coffee and cocktail bar. For farm-to-table wood-fired pizzas, there's Locals Food Hub & Pizza Pub, which uses locally sourced ingredients, house-made sauces, Kentucky cheeses, and farm-raised meats.

A classic Smoketown restaurant, Shirley Mae's Cafe is cash-only and is open Thursday through Sunday, but well worth planning a lunch or dinner for soul food classics like chicken fried pork chops, smoked pork ribs, cornbread dressing, turnip greens, and an array of irresistible desserts.

Perso serves fresh Italian dishes as beautifully presented as they are carefully prepared, and the chef's table, a three-course family-style meal, is always a delightful culinary adventure. Located out back, you'll find Segreto, a secret garden bar.

Check out Atrium Brewing for craft beer on tap and don't miss out on the Crave Wave food truck on site. The newly established Trellis Brewing built their taproom and brewery in the midst of the towering brick ruins of the neighborhood's former factories, making for a most dramatic and unique venue. The late-night Canary Club bills itself as "Louisville's natty wine bar," the "natty" referencing "natural wines," which you can enjoy with delightful, yet unexpected, bar bite combos like caviar and potato chips. Next door is The Breeze, a coffee shop and retail space filled with wine, gourmet food, and unique gifts. Nook & Nowhere is a new coffeehouse, bar, and bookstore with plenty of cozy spots for reading, including a patio just behind the neighborhood's famous "Whiskey Got Me into Trouble" mural.

Logan Street Market is home to 25+ independently owned businesses, where you

can sample a world of flavors, including sweet and savory fillings at La Maison aux Crêpes; Jewish comfort food at Cold Smoke Bagels; Venezuelan at Full Arepa KY; Palestinian cuisine at Jerusalem Kitchen; Korean favorites at K-Bop; vegan comfort food at V-Grits; and West African fused with French, Italian, and American cuisine at Ziba's Bistro. For coffee, head to Safai, and there's also Pizza Bomb and Soda Bomb.

DISCOVER

Art, artists, and artisans abound in these neighborhoods with public murals setting a colorful background for the community's galleries and artist studios. Galerie Hertz Art Gallery has been representing and showcasing regional, national, and international artists for 28 years. The Idlewild Butterfly Farm puts nature's art on exhibit with a collection of butterflies and exotic insects.

SHOP

Visit the internationally renowned Anchal Project for one-of-a-kind textiles. For new and vintage clothing, jewelry, and gifts, visit Lady Luck Boutique. For vintage streetwear and an extensive sneaker inventory, from beaters to cherries, visit The Capsule. For well-crafted essentials, visit Misc. Goods Co., where you'll find everything from leather goods to toiletries. Logan Street Market also offers unique shopping: Bluepop Art, CeyoLanka Family, Flourish CBD, Harper's Emporium, and The Kinder Artist.

PARISTOWN

Adjacent to Smoketown, start your day in nearby Paristown with breakfast at The Café, where comforting Southern-accented options will fill you up as you dine under a mix of antique chandeliers and sip coffee in artful mugs from neighboring Stoneware & Co. A short walk on Swan Street will take you to Fleur de Flea Vintage Urban Market, a 35,000 sq. ft. warehouse with 150+ vendors. Paristown is also home to The Village Market, Louisville's first collective food hall, where you'll find Banditz Pizza, Bunz Burgerz, Jeff's Donuts, and Uncle Boogie's Distilling Co. A growing art and entertainment district, Paristown is home to Old Forester's Paristown Hall, a live performance venue booking national and regional acts. Next door is Christy's Garden, one of Paristown's many nontraditional, outdoor performance spaces.

SOUTH FOURTH STREET

As the city's primary retail and entertainment corridor for much of the 19th and 20th centuries, Fourth Street was the place to see and be seen. Folks flocked to the area to enjoy an evening out at the theater, dine, and shop. Today, the 500 and 600 blocks of South Fourth Street are a must-visit destination for dining, nightlife, and history.

EAT & DRINK

Treat yourself to a Mint Julep or an Old Fashioned at The Brown Hotel Lobby Bar & Grill before ordering up Louisville's Official Sandwich, the world-famous Hot Brown. It was created at the hotel in 1926 and has been a fixture on the menu ever since, inspiring other versions across the state.

For elevated views and cuisine, go to 8UP Elevated Drinkery & Kitchen. This open-air rooftop bar and restaurant is located on the 8th floor of the Hilton Garden Inn Downtown. During the winter months, you'll find themed igloos, perfect for parties and special occasions. Look for the Tom Bullock mural outside of Sway, the Hyatt Regency Louisville's restaurant, which serves farm-to-fork Southern-inspired fare. For a casual lunch or dinner, Safier Mediterranean Deli is a favorite with locals. Next door, Metztl Modern Mexican Cuisine & Bar brings a modern twist to traditional Mexican flavors.

For luxury dining, there's Brendon's Catch 23, which offers steak and seafood, and Steak & Bourbon, both of which have extensive Bourbon lists and offer a premier dining experience.

Fourth Street Live! is filled with restaurants to suit any taste or mood. It's home to Guy Fieri's Smokehouse, where the celebrity chef's passion for barbecue is evident. For meat lovers, Brazeiros Brazilian Steakhouse serves up carnivorous delights and gourmet sides. For Italian, there's Benfinita. Pizza Bar boasts a vast array of pies and slices, and for your sweet tooth, there's The Fudgery.

A short walk south on Fourth Street, you'll find even more restaurants and bars. If you're looking for a comfortable spot to watch a game and feast on elevated bar food, head to Parlay Sports Bar. For Mexican food, there's La Terraza and Mi Casita on 4th. For pizza, there's Spinelli's Pizzeria and Sicilian Pizza & Pasta, offering an array of melt-in-your-mouth pizzas, including the Kentucky Hot Brown, which is piled high with roast turkey, bacon, and cheese sauce. For a craft cocktail, Meta is a must. You'll find classics as well as playfully modern concoctions. For DJs, dancing, and VIP service, check out Midnight Club.

betting, and historical racing machines. See a show at the Louisville Palace, which originally opened as a movie theater in 1928 and now hosts internationally renowned musicians, comedians, and performing arts events. The Palace is famous for its ornate interior, baroque architecture, and design. Nearby, Mercury Ballroom is another great place to catch performances by both national and up-and-coming artists.

Louisville entertainment district Fourth Street Live! is an epicenter of nightclubs. With 35+ HDTVs, The Sports & Social Club is a great place to watch the game and enjoy classic pub food. For dancing, head to Howl at the Moon, a dueling piano bar. For bull riding, mosey over to PBR Louisville. Fourth Street Live! also hosts a variety of events, such as Hot Country Nights, The MELANnaire Marketplace, and many others.

One block over, the Neo-Gothic Cathedral of the Assumption is one of Louisville's architectural landmarks. Built in 1852, the cathedral still celebrates Mass daily and welcomes visitors. Take a free tour of the historic Seelbach Hotel, where you'll see the Rathskeller and the Grand Ballroom, the location of Tom and Daisy's wedding in F. Scott Fitzgerald's classic novel The Great Gatsby. Afterward, head to the Old Seelbach Bar, which conjures an opulent, early 1900s vibe worthy of Jay Gatsby himself, to order a Prohibition-era-inspired Seelbach cocktail.

For a respite from the buzz of downtown, enjoy the many public art installations, play one of the four custom-designed outdoor pianos, or take a walk through the Trager MicroForest.

SHOP

Discover the region's first Bourbon-certified chocolatier and Bourbon Truffles in the adorable chocolate shop Art Eatables. A few blocks away, Griffin Hatters offers a wide variety of handcrafted hats perfect for the Kentucky Derby. A downtown shopping trip is not complete without a stop at the Louisville Visitor Center to pick up Louisville-themed gifts to enjoy at home.

SOUTH LOUISVILLE

In recent years, South Louisville has experienced a renaissance. Young families have moved into this area of second- and third-generation residents, and many have come from across the globe. With this mix of old and new, the area has become a multicultural community that's rich and diverse.

EAT & DRINK

Start your morning before heading to Churchill Downs like many horsemen do with biscuits and gravy or a Pam & Jack's omelet at Wagner's Pharmacy. The old-time pharmacy with a soda fountain has been a Louisville institution since 1922. Located on the premises of Churchill Downs Racetrack and inside the Kentucky Derby Museum, the Derby Café & Bourbon Bar features iconic Louisville food like Derby-Pie®, the Hot Brown, and burgoo.

Across from Iroquois Park, Colonial Gardens is home to a cluster of local eateries: The B.A. Colonial, where you can indulge in Bourbon and burgers; Back Deck BBQ, famous for their ribs and smoked wings; Hokkaido Ramen & Sushi Bar; Costa del Sol Restaurant & Grill; and Craft House Pizza.

Delicious and inexpensive international dining options abound in South Louisville, including Vietnamese restaurants A Chau Restaurant, Da Lat's Cafe, Annie's Café, and Vietnam Kitchen (a top pick of many Louisville chefs).

Savor Salvadoran flavors at La Guanaquita. Explore Ethiopian cuisine at Habesha. Enjoy Asian fusion from breakfast to dinner at Yummi Yummi Sushi Restaurant, and stop by Sweet Havana for pastries, sandwiches, and authentic Cuban treats.

Week-End Burgers, open every day except Sunday, is known for fresh beef burgers made the classic way, good, tasty, and messy. Bring cash and enjoy the old-school vibes at Bonnie & Clyde's Pizza Parlor, where you can watch your pizza as it is being made. If you have a taste for barbecue, you'll enjoy Rubbies, a local favorite for 30+ years, along with the rustic Shack in the Back BBQ in Fairdale.

Mike Linnig's has served up fried fish, frog legs, shrimp, pan-fried oysters, turtle soup, and more since 1925. It's nestled in a shady grove along the Ohio River, where you can have your seafood served indoors or out, all while enjoying the view. If you're in town on a Saturday from March through November, stop by the Suburban Social Club Fish Fry for an authentic South Louisville tradition since 1927. There, you'll find "Green River" style fish, sold by the pound (cash only) alongside slaw, fries, and signature marinated onions.

In the heart of Beechmont, you'll find The StrEatery, a food hall with a diversity of vendors representing this foodie-rich neighborhood: Anko Japanese Kitchen & Sushi, Fresh Out the Box Asian Street Food, Str8 Drop Wings, CharCUTERie Creations, and Mr. C's Cheesecake. Next door, get fueled up at Sunergos, a micro-roastery and coffee shop that also highlights local artists.

DISCOVER

The South Points Scenic Area along the Ohio River is surrounded by thousands of acres of forested knobs and open space and is a prime destination for outdoor recreation. Jefferson Memorial Forest, one of the largest urban forests in the country, is the site of more than 40 miles of scenic woodland trails for hiking, trail running, and equestrian use. For mountain biking or fishing, don't miss a visit to Waverly Park. South Points is also home to Olmsted-designed Iroquois Park, which hosts concerts in the Iroquois Amphitheater and is also the site of the annual Jack O'Lantern Spectacular. Kentucky Kingdom Theme and Water Park offers adrenaline-packed adventure with over 70 thrilling rides and attractions, including 6 world-class roller coasters and areas designed especially for families and young children. See firsthand how Bourbon and whiskey are made from start to finish at the legendary Stitzel-Weller Distillery, home to the Garden & Gun Club—one of only two in the country.

Enjoy some of the most beautiful views of the Ohio River Valley while hiking or biking the Louisville Loop, which stretches from Riverside, the Farnsley-Moremen Landing through West Louisville and into downtown. History aficionados can explore a 19th-century farm on the Ohio River at the Farnsley-Moremen House. Or, take in The Little Loomhouse, which is on the National Register of Historic Places and is the biggest repository of original and classic textile patterns in the United States.

Experience live racing and sip a Mint Julep at Churchill Downs, home of the legendary Kentucky Derby, during the spring, September and fall meets. Experience the thrill and traditions of the Kentucky Derby every day at the Kentucky Derby Museum, where a 360-degree high-definition multimedia show, exhibits, a café, and gift shop await visitors.

SOUTHERN INDIANA

Located just one mile north of Louisville, Southern Indiana is a quick hop over the bridge from downtown and has charming riverfront communities with revitalized, walkable downtowns, historical attractions, and an up-and-coming restaurant scene.

CLARKSVILLE

Clarksville is home to the Falls of the Ohio State Park, where the 390-million-year-old exposed fossil beds steal the show. The Falls is the site where explorers Meriwether Lewis and William Clark met before embarking on the famous Lewis & Clark Expedition. The Falls of the Ohio Interpretive Center features exhibits with state-of-the-art audio, video, and interactive elements. Looking for some fresh air and exercise? The Ohio River Greenway is a seven-mile stretch of pathway along the edge of Jeffersonville, Clarksville, and New Albany that can be explored by bike or on foot. Right around the corner, you'll find the Widow's Walk Ice Creamery. The shop, located beside a charming bright yellow Victorian-style home, serves up sweet treats and is a great place to relax and take in the riverfront views.

Be entertained at Derby Dinner Playhouse, one of the largest and longest-running professional dinner theaters in the country. Play pickleball at Goodbounce Pickleball Yard, where you can also grab a tasty beverage.

JEFFERSONVILLE

A short walk across the Big Four Bridge will land you in Jeffersonville at the Big Four Station Park, which features green space, fountains, a pavilion, and a playground.

Grab a bite at TOWN, an Italian-American pub with eclectic menu items. For craft beer and pub fare, there's Red Yeti, Upland Brewing Co., and Pearl Street Taphouse.

Pizza and craft beer go hand in hand at Parlour with its expansive outdoor patio. For Mexican, there's La Catrina Tacos & Tequila. Union Restaurant & Gameyard offers creative cocktails, outdoor games, and a lively social scene. Game on the River features exotic meats served in lodge-themed dining rooms. O'Shea's and Drake's both bring crowd-pleasing pub fare, craft beer, and a friendly neighborhood atmosphere.

NoCo Arts & Cultural District is a hub for creativity. The 22-block area is home to an art center, artist studios, a private maker space, and museums, including the Vintage Fire Museum. Stop by Schimppff's Confectionery for a candy-making demonstration. Named the best candy store in the country by USA Today readers, it's one of the oldest, continuously operated, family-owned candy businesses in the U.S. For more treats, there's Sweets by Morgan and Pearl Street Treats.

Take a step back in time to the Great Steamboat Era with a tour of the Howard Steamboat Museum. RiverStage is a great place to catch a concert. Unwind at Match Cigar Bar,

WEST LOUISVILLE

West Louisville contains nearly a dozen neighborhoods bordering the Ohio River, including Algonquin, Hallmark, Park DuValle, Parkland, Russell, California, Chickasaw, and Shawnee. The area celebrates its strong African American heritage with historical attractions, including The Kentucky Center for African American Heritage, Muhammad Ali's boyhood home, St. Stephen Church, Simmons College of Kentucky, and the recently established Louisville Urban League Sports and Learning Campus.

EAT & DRINK

Start your day at Blak Koffee, with locations in the Russell and Parkland neighborhoods, where you'll find a full breakfast and lunch menu, including many house-made specialties like chicken and waffles. If you're craving soul food early in the day, try Brunch & Soul, while Tino's Taste of Heaven serves up the classics, and dessert too, for lunch and early dinner. You can't miss the Ali mural out front. For BBQ, both Gore's SmokeOut BBQ and Stevie J's offer carryout smoky goodness. Fried chicken connoisseurs will want to sample cash-only Indi's, where the lines move fast for the spicy treats that await. For sweeter treats, Hip Hop Sweet Shop serves up over-the-top milkshakes, parfaits, and other desserts with bright decor celebrating Hip Hop musicians and music.

A landmark in the Russell neighborhood for more than 40 years, Club Cedar is known for having the best and cheapest drinks in the city, along with DJs and live music. Joe's Palm Room was the place to be in the '50s, a jazz club where you might run into Redd Foxx, Joe Louis, Dizzy Gillespie, Richard Pryor, or Muhammad Ali. The legend lives on today with live music, karaoke, theme nights, and indoor tailgating on UofL game days.

If you're in the Shawnee neighborhood, order up a tasty picnic to take to Shawnee Park from Soulful Choices, located just across the street from the park on Broadway, or head over to Mani's Cafe for burgers, chicken, fish, loaded Philly steak fries, and pasta salads. Enjoy all-day breakfast at Southern Hospitality Bar and Grill on Broadway, where you'll find cinnamon brown sugar French toast along with a wide-ranging lunch and dinner menu covering pizza, wings, burgers, and seafood. You'll want to take off your coat and stay awhile for the pool table and darts.

Located in the Parkland neighborhood, Big Momma's Soul Kitchen is a no-frills joint that gets rave reviews for its soul food classics, including fried chicken, pork chops, and hearty sides. The Fish House & Grill is a California neighborhood favorite.

DISCOVER

Fans of "The Greatest" won't want to miss the chance to cruise by Muhammad Ali's childhood home. Ali lived in the house on Grand Avenue as a youth in the 1940s through the early 1960s. A bronze marker is located in front of the house (outside photo opportunities available – no inside admittance). In 2023, internationally renowned artist Shepard Fairey, who also created Barack Obama’s iconic political poster image, visited Louisville to paint a seven-story mural of Muhammad Ali on the Chestnut Street Family YMCA.

The Kentucky Center for African American Heritage features rotating exhibits that pay homage to the rich cultural heritage of African Americans in Kentucky.

Union Station, a railroad depot from the 1890s, is a sight to behold with exceptional architectural features. The station served 58 trains a day during the height of rail travel in the 1920s. Today, it serves as the offices of the Transit Authority of River City (TARC) and is open to the public.

Along the Ohio River, the 285-acre Frederick Law Olmsted-designed Shawnee Park is home to a riverwalk, biking paths, recreation fields, and a public 18-hole golf course, considered one of the city’s most “player-friendly.” Shawnee Park also plays host to the Dirt Bowl, a summer-long community basketball tournament that’s been a tradition for more than 50 years. Tennis courts, picnic sites, and a fishing lake make up nearby Chickasaw Park, and you can take a dip in the swimming pool at Algonquin Park. The newly opened Alberta O. Jones Park features a large playground, walking paths, a picnic pavilion, and a mural honoring the pioneering attorney and civil rights champion.

St. Stephen Church, the largest African American church in the region, welcomes visitors who would like to tour the Baptist church and community center’s four-block campus, and Simmons College of Kentucky is a historic co-ed African American university. The Russell neighborhood is home to the Louisville Urban League Sports and Learning Campus, a 24-acre, multi-sport complex that includes the Norton Healthcare Sports and Learning Center and Humana Outdoor Track & Field, a prized host of local, regional, and national indoor and outdoor track meets and other events. Their outdoor track is available to the public daily.

Located inside the Amped Tech & Learning Center, The MELANnaire Marketplace™ Louisville Makers Gift & Experience Shop showcases handmade gifts, apparel, art, treats, and souvenirs produced by local Black makers.

Louisville's Whiskey Row and Museum Row are packed with distilleries, attractions, and museums that showcase Bourbon, history, science, art, and culture. Along Main Street, you'll discover one of the country's largest collections of cast-iron facades, Revival-style and Chicago-style architecture from the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Not only is Main Street the historic commercial heart of the Bourbon industry, it remains the most significant urban Bourbon destination in the world.

EAT & DRINK

Kickstart your day at Blackbeard Espresso or Wiltshire Pantry Bakery & Cafe, which is also a go-to lunch spot for locals, along with The Main Eatery, In Season, Addis Grill, and Corner. Two Louisville mainstays, Bristol Bar & Grille and Bluegrass Brewing Company, are also great options for a classic American lunch or dinner.

For straightforward Southern cuisine, there's Merle's Whiskey Kitchen, Doc Crow's Southern Smokehouse & Raw Bar, or Dasha Barbour's Southern Bistro. For a tasty burger, try Sidebar, Nic & Norman's, or Mussel & Burger Bar. For Mexican, there's Down One Bourbon Bar & Restaurant or Zombie Taco at Bar Moxy. For quick, yummy pub fare, there's O'Shea's Downtown and Troll Pub Under the Bridge. If it's pizza you're craving, there's Luigi's or The Misfit Lou, which also serves pizza, along with sandwiches.

For upscale dining, Proof on Main puts an unexpected twist on Southern-inspired cuisine. Vincenzo's brings the old school Italian. Monk's Road Boiler House is a luxury chophouse from Log Still Distillery with a tasting room and speakeasy-style bar. Choosing from the many outstanding steakhouses, like Morton's, Jeff Ruby's, Steakhouse Bourré Bonne, or Repeal, is not easy, but there's no wrong choice here. Inside the Galt House Hotel, you'll find Walker's Exchange and Swizzle, a rotating restaurant and bar high atop the hotel overlooking the Ohio River.

DISCOVER

Every few steps on a walk down Whiskey Row, you'll find distilleries, tasting rooms, Bourbon experiences, and distillery bars. At the west end of Main Street is Michter's Fort Nelson Distillery, where you can tour a restored 19th-century building named for the historic fort, sample a lineup of Michter's award-winning whiskeys, and enjoy a cocktail in The Bar at Fort Nelson. At Hillerich & Bradsby Co.'s Barrels & Billets, learn the art of whiskey making and even craft your own custom blend to take home. Step inside the Bardstown Bourbon Company to experience interactive tastings and sip cocktails in their bar. At Pursuit Spirits, choose from a range of experiences from a visit to their cocktail lounge, Trial + Error, to tastings and private barrel selections. At Green River Tasting Room, explore interactive Bourbon exhibits and enjoy handcrafted cocktails. Nearby, Buzzard's Roost, a micro-distillery, invites you to take part in guided tastings, whiskey education classes, and flights at their bar. At Evan Williams Bourbon Experience, tour the first distillery to open on Whiskey Row after Prohibition, or just stop by the chic ON3 Bar. At Old Forester Distilling Co., learn about the Bourbon-making process from fermentation to barrel firing in the on-site cooperage and aging in the urban rickhouse, or just raise a glass at George's Bar.

The KFC Yum! Center is a 22,000-seat arena that continuously plays host to a who's who of performances. Founded in 1964, Actors Theatre of Louisville occupies a theater complex with three stages. The Kentucky Center for the Performing Arts, just a few blocks away, is home to the Louisville Ballet, Louisville Orchestra, and the PNC Bank Broadway in Louisville series. The Louisville Comedy Club brings local and national comedic acts to Whiskey Row.

Museum Row on Main Street offers many one-of-a-kind attractions, including the Frazier History Museum (home of the Kentucky Bourbon Trail® Welcome Center), Louisville Slugger Museum & Factory, Kentucky Science Center, KMAC Museum, Muhammad Ali Center, Roots 101 African-American Museum, Flame Run Glass Studio and Gallery, and 21c Museum Hotel, with free exhibits open 24/7 to the public.

For nightlife, there are hidden speakeasies Hereafter, Wild Swann, and Hell or High Water. If you're looking for live music, head to Stevie Ray's Blues Bar or Goodwood Brewing + Spirits, which has multiple bars and food. Relax after a night out at Woodhouse Spa, a full-service spa, or at Pelo West and Bourbon & Blush, both of which offer a spa and a full range of salon services.

SHOP

Art Eatables is a premier Bourbon chocolatier known for its Bourbon chocolate truffles. Duluth Trading Co. is home to men's and women's clothing and accessories. The Shoppes at The Galt House Hotel include gift shops and men's and women's clothing boutiques. All of the museum gift shops offer unique items among other souvenirs.

THINGS TO DO IN LOUISVILLE

Here is a glimpse at Tripadvisor's 15 most highly ranked Louisville attractions. Whether you want to seek adventure, explore history, or delve into Kentucky's native spirit, there is something for everyone to enjoy.

LOUISVILLE MEGA CAVERN

One hundred exhilarating underground acres await at the Louisville Mega Cavern. For thrill seekers, there's Mega Ziplines, an underground adventure one hundred feet above the cavern floor with neon lights and electrifying music. For history and science enthusiasts, there's the Historic Tram Tour, where you'll ride in the Mega Tram as you learn about the cavern's geology, history (including what was once the top-secret use of the cavern), and the mining techniques used when the cavern was a limestone quarry. For those craving an adrenaline rush, the Mega Quest aerial ropes course is one of only twenty courses of its kind in the country. In November and December, the Mega Cavern is transformed into Lights Under Louisville, a nationally recognized holiday light show.

LOUISVILLE SLUGGER MUSEUM & FACTORY

Hillerich & Bradsby Co. has been making the Louisville Slugger since 1884, and you don't have to be a die-hard baseball fan to enjoy visiting the factory where the world's most famous baseball bat is manufactured. However, baseball enthusiasts will get a particular thrill out of seeing Babe Ruth's 1927 record-setting bat and Hank Aaron's 700th home run bat. Take a factory tour to see how the Louisville Slugger is made and depart with a souvenir mini bat.

KENTUCKY DERBY MUSEUM

Experience the thrill and traditions of the Kentucky Derby every day at the Kentucky Derby Museum, located on the grounds of Churchill Downs. Learn about the history of the Derby, tour the track at Churchill Downs, sip a Mint Julep in the museum cafe, and watch the 18-minute epic film, "The Greatest Race," a 360-degree, high-definition media experience. Exhibits, many of which are interactive, take visitors through every stage of a Thoroughbred's life and give an in-depth look into the history of the sport's most celebrated jockeys and horses. Favorite exhibits include "Secretariat" and "Black Heritage in Racing."

CHURCHILL DOWNS

The home of the Kentucky Derby since 1875, Churchill Downs is one of the country's most beautiful and historic racetracks. Derby week races can see more than 100,000 fans for Thurfby, a Kentucky-celebration day on Thursday, Oaks on Friday, and Derby on the first Saturday in May. Churchill Downs also hosts live Thoroughbred racing in spring, summer, and fall, including night races under the lights.

CONRAD-CALDWELL HOUSE MUSEUM

Travel back to the Gilded Age at the Conrad-Caldwell House Museum. Also known as "Conrad's Castle," it holds court amidst the largest concentration of Victorian homes in the country and is one of the finest examples of Richardsonian Romanesque architecture in Louisville. Constructed in 1895 by renowned architect Arthur Loomis, of Clarke & Loomis, the Conrad-Caldwell House has been restored with historical detail to the Edwardian era. Learn about the history of one of Louisville's most beautiful homes and the families who lived there by taking a self-guided or docent-led tour.

BIG FOUR BRIDGE

Take in the sights of the Ohio River as you cross this pedestrian bridge linking the waterfronts of Kentucky and Indiana. Set out on foot or bike the one-mile span for picturesque views of the Ohio River, Waterfront Park, and the Louisville skyline. After sunset, a rotating LED light show illuminates the bridge, setting a vibrant scene for an after-dark walk.

MUHAMMAD ALI CENTER

Muhammad Ali's legacy continues at this immersive museum, which begins with a 14-minute film introducing viewers to his "Six Core Principles: Confidence, Conviction, Dedication, Respect, Spirituality and Giving." Ali's boxing career is showcased with exhibits and memorabilia, including the interactive "Train with Ali" exhibit, where you can shadow box with "The Greatest." Ali's life and achievements are put in historical context with the Vietnam War and the Civil Rights Movement.

STITZEL-WELLER

Bourbon aficionados regard Stitzel-Weller as hallowed ground—a cathedral of the industry and a must-visit on the Kentucky Bourbon Trail®. Learn the story behind the five brass keys that hung on the door when the distillery first opened on Derby Day in 1935 as you trace Bourbon's past, present, and future. For the ultimate in Southern Charm, rich history, and elevated hospitality, you'll want to stop by the onsite Garden & Gun Club, one of only two in the country.

OLD FORESTER DISTILLING

Learn how George Garvin Brown revolutionized Bourbon by bottling for quality in 1870, and explore every step of production—from the bubbling fermentation tanks and copper stills to barrel making and charring. The distillery is located in the same building where George worked, and you can soak up more of the history at the onsite bar named for the founder himself.

WAVERLY HILLS SANITORIUM

Known for its role as a tuberculosis hospital in the early 1900s, Waverly Hills is an official site on the U.S. National Register of Historic Places. Unofficially, it is also known as one of the most haunted places in the world. Its somber past, striking Gothic architecture, and eerie atmosphere make it a popular destination for history buffs and paranormal enthusiasts alike. Waverly offers ghost tours, historical tours, and overnight paranormal investigations.

EVAN WILLIAMS BOURBON EXPERIENCE

The Evan Williams Bourbon Experience was the first distillery to open on Whiskey Row since Prohibition, signaling a whole new era in Bourbon City. Here you'll find an immersive experience that transports you back to the 1780s and celebrates the legacy of Evan Williams, Kentucky's first distiller, whose original still was located just a block away. History and Bourbon buffs alike will appreciate the multimedia experience that explores the intertwined history of Bourbon and the Ohio River city.

CAVE HILL CEMETERY

The final resting place of Muhammad Ali and Colonel Harland Sanders, Cave Hill Cemetery also contains 600 species of trees and shrubs and is the city's only accredited arboretum. Its 296 acres also include lakes, mausoleums, sculptures, and the graves of 228 Confederate and 6,100 Union soldiers. Whether you visit to pay respects, learn about history and botany, or just for a lovely walk, Cave Hill Cemetery has much to offer and is free and open to the public.

LOUISVILLE ZOO

From rhinos, giraffes, and polar bears, seals, sloths, and snow leopards, experience some of the world's most majestic animals up close as you explore the habitats of Africa, Australia, Central and South America all in one day. The Louisville Zoo is home to more than 1,400 animals across 130 acres, including the award-winning Islands, Gorilla Forest, and Glacier Run exhibits.

KENTUCKY PEERLESS DISTILLING CO.

The first Peerless whiskey was barreled in 1889, but operations shut down during WWI to conserve corn supplies. After being shuttered for almost a century, the Taylor family has revitalized the brand at the distillery right off Main Street. At this state-of-the-art facility, you can authentically experience the entire whiskey-making process as the grains are milled, cooked, fermented, double-distilled, and barreled.

FRAZIER HISTORY MUSEUM

From Lewis and Clark to disco balls, learn about the history of Kentucky at the Frazier History Museum, which is also the official starting point of The Kentucky Bourbon Trail®. See one of the world's largest collections of toy soldiers and historical miniatures and a wide array of arms and artifacts, including Teddy Roosevelt's "Big Stick," Custer's pistols, and Geronimo's bow and arrows.

KENTUCKY KINGDOM THEME and WATER PARK

Kentucky Kingdom Theme and Water Park is one of the region's most thrilling destinations, offering more than 70 rides and attractions that range from family-friendly fun to heart-pounding thrills. The park boasts six world-class roller coasters, including the brand-new Flying Fox—a perfect first coaster with speeds up to 37 mph, no inversions, and a low ride height requirement of 38 inches. Other favorites include the classic wooden Kentucky Flyer, the high-flying Storm Chaser with its barrel roll drop from a 10-story lift hill, and the iconic Giant Wheel, rising 150 feet for panoramic views of Louisville.

Younger guests will find plenty to explore in Discovery Meadow, a new immersive family zone unveiled in 2025 that celebrates Kentucky's spirit, with three new family rides, 11 re-themed attractions, a shaded playground, games, and locally inspired food. Don't forget your bathing suit because you'll want to enjoy the three million gallons of family fun in the water park. Among the highlights are two wave pools, including the Family Wave Lagoon and Adventure River, the 12-story Deep Water Dive, one of the world's tallest body slides, and Tornado, a seven-story plunge that ends in a giant funnel that spins you round and round.

In addition to the 70+ rides and attractions, enjoy nonstop entertainment and events throughout the season. Grab a seat and take your favorite movies for a ride at the 5D Cinema, which gives you an immersive experience that engages all senses. Enjoy weekends at the park for holiday celebrations. October 2 through November 1, Pumpkins at Kentucky Kingdom showcases more than 1,000 glowing pumpkins, larger-than-life sculptures, and rides after dark. November 21 through January 2, Christmas at Kentucky Kingdom lights up the winter with more than 1.5 million twinkling lights, a 175-foot-long tubing hill covered in real snow, festive foods, and visits with Santa and his reindeer.

The Theater Scene

Louisville's theater scene includes a diverse community of companies. You can catch live performances throughout the year, from intimate productions at theaters like The Henry Clay to Broadway shows at The Kentucky Center. Below is just a sampling of what the area's ever-evolving theater scene has to offer.

Actors Theatre anchors Louisville's theater scene with three stages located in its Main Street headquarters. Actors Theatre seeks to integrate art, storytelling, and technology for the purpose of social transformation.

Bunbury Theatre Company, a Henry Clay Theatre resident company, stages socially conscious new works and classics, creating an intimate, engaging theater experience. The 2026 Season will include Beckett's "Endgame."

CenterStage, the resident theater company at the Trager Family Jewish Community Center, is known for elaborate, crowd-pleasing musical productions, such as "The Sound of Music" and "Fiddler on the Roof."

The Chamber Theater produces classic drama with a focus on late 19th- and early 20th-century plays.

Derby Dinner Playhouse, located just across the river in Clarksville, Indiana, is one of the country's oldest professional dinner theaters. Derby Dinner Playhouse stages both Broadway musicals and lighthearted comedies throughout the year.

FaithWORKS Performing Arts brings compelling productions and live music to the historic Russell Theater, staging concert series alongside productions such as "Dearly Beloved" and "Sojourner Truth."

Kentucky Shakespeare puts on a free, non-ticketed Shakespeare festival in Old Louisville's Central Park, Wednesday through Sunday nights during the summer. Each fall, they also stage a spooky performance at their headquarters in Old Louisville, and in winter, a classic adaptation, like Jane Austen's "Emma."

Looking for Lilith is an ensemble theater company that re-examines history and questions the contemporary moment from women's perspectives.

Mind's Eye Theatre Company is known for their cult classic productions as seen in their 2025 performance of "Evil Dead: The Musical."

Pandora Productions, one of the Henry Clay Theatre resident companies, is dedicated to theater about and for the LGBTQ+ community, often producing comedies and musicals like "TL:DR: Thelma Louise; Dyke Remix."

PNC Broadway in Louisville brings blockbuster shows to Whitney Hall. The 2025-26 Season includes "MJ The Musical," "Water for Elephants," "Kimberly Akimbo," "The Great Gatsby," "Beauty and the Beast," "The Book of Mormon," "Hamilton," and "The Outsiders."

Redline Performing Arts is a community theater company focused on arts justice. They often perform musicals like "Kinky Boots," "Rent," and "Dreamgirls."

StageOne Family Theatre has been staging theater for ages 5-15 for more than 75 seasons. They cater to the younger crowd while offering theater for everyone. A perennial favorite is "The Best Christmas Pageant Ever."

Time Slip Theatre is known for the annual production of "The Rocky Horror Picture Show" and other musicals like "Jagged Little Pill."

The University of Louisville's African American Theatre Program stages two works each academic year by new and established Black dramatists.

LOUISVILLE'S VISITOR CENTERS

Whether arriving by plane or exploring downtown, Louisville's Visitor Centers are your go-to information hubs—designed to reflect Bourbon City's hospitality, history, and a touch of Southern charm to ensure unforgettable first impressions.

Downtown Louisville Visitor Center

Located in the heart of the city, the Downtown Louisville Visitor Center at 4th & Jefferson Streets has been reimagined to celebrate Louisville's heritage with equestrian-inspired décor, Muhammad Ali memorabilia, and bourbon-themed details, including a cozy bar area used for special events and tastings with local distilleries. It's here that you can plan your Bourbon City adventures with the help of knowledgeable staff and find assistance with hotels, attractions, and dining.

From bourbon-inspired keepsakes to artisan-made goods, the center offers the perfect keepsakes for a truly memorable visit. Explore an exclusive collection of Louisville apparel and locally-crafted souvenirs.

Address: 301 South 4th Street

Hours: Mon. - Sat.: 10AM - 5 PM EST; Sun.: 12 PM - 5 PM EST
Apr. - Sept. Downtown Visitor Center hours extended until 6pm

Airport Welcome Center

The newly constructed Airport Welcome Center at Louisville Muhammad Ali International Airport offers a warm introduction to Bourbon City. Conveniently located on the lower level near baggage claim, this information center provides travelers with expert guidance on dining, accommodations, attractions, and all things bourbon.

Throughout the year, be on the lookout for special events, such as bourbon and food tastings, ensuring you get to experience Louisville's legendary hospitality from the moment you arrive until the moment you depart.

Address: 600 Terminal Drive

Hours: Open daily: 10 AM - 6 PM EST

DISTILLERY TOURS – TASTINGS – EVENTS

Learn about bourbon's rich history, present, and future at the historic Stitzel-Weller Distillery.

BOURBON EXPERIENCE®

Evan Williams® Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whiskey Bardstown, KY © 2025

*Nice to meet you — we're ShelbyKY:
Louisville's next door neighbor.*

We're proud of our handcrafted bourbon, graceful Saddlebred horses, and iconic Southern comfort food perfected by Colonel Sanders himself. Add in designer shopping, luxurious places to stay, our small-town charm, perfect location just 30 minutes from Louisville, and it's clear why we're Your Bourbon Destination® and the Saddlebred Horse Capital of the World™.

In other words,
ShelbyKY is everything you love about Kentucky.
